Presents

“The Times Of Our Lives”

Time Flows And Drags Us With It.

The river of Time which we have been riding for the past four years has carried us swiftly to the brink of the future. What the future holds for us is by nature unknown. Some of us will glide smoothly along calm waters, but others will be tossed by rapids, ever struggling against the current. Yet we step out eagerly to face those challenges posed by life.

The Moment In Which I Speak Is Already Gone.

Boileau

A. Sheila Dewalt discovers the inconvenience of calling from a truly public telephone booth. B. Roque Casanovas and Karen Penn share a quiet conversation. C. Debbie Marzalli aids a friend who is illustrating a short story Debbie has written for Miss Winkie's creative writing class. D. Joanne McGrath and Kim Scugozza listen quietly and think perhaps of their futures in the world of business. E. Ed Devine appears to be lost in his thoughts as he peers from a C-Wing window. F. Mark Freericks and Jeff Fresh pay close attention during their French class.

To Lucy,
Nice to have known you this year.
I hope I see you
again. I hope you move.
Good luck
Have a nice summer.

The Happier The Time The Faster It Goes.

Pliny The Younger

"They were the best of times; they were the worst of times." So wrote Charles Dickens in his famous opening to A Tale of Two Cities. The same might be said for our high school years. But if time truly heals all wounds, then it is the happy times we will most likely remember — those times we spent among our friends doing those things we most enjoyed.

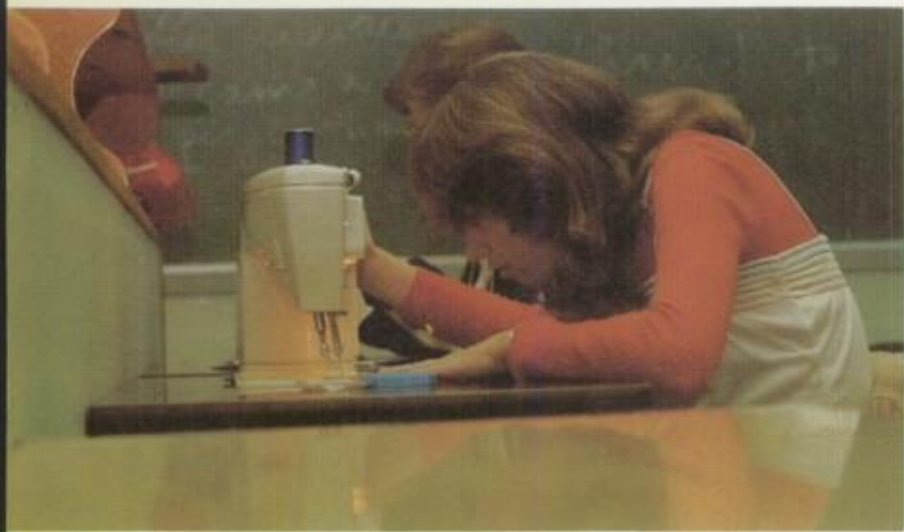

A. Anne Luciani smiles during a break in one of her classes. B. Monica Sturm looks forward to her coming lunch period. C. Cindy Bucher looks pleased at having a moment with nothing to do. D. Tony Kaphan takes a break in wood shop. E. Kim Edwards grins with the enthusiasm which only a freshman can muster. F. Paula Petruka and Sherri King appear pleased at the progress of their music lesson.

Do Not Squander Time For It Is The Stuff Life Is Made Of.

B. Franklin

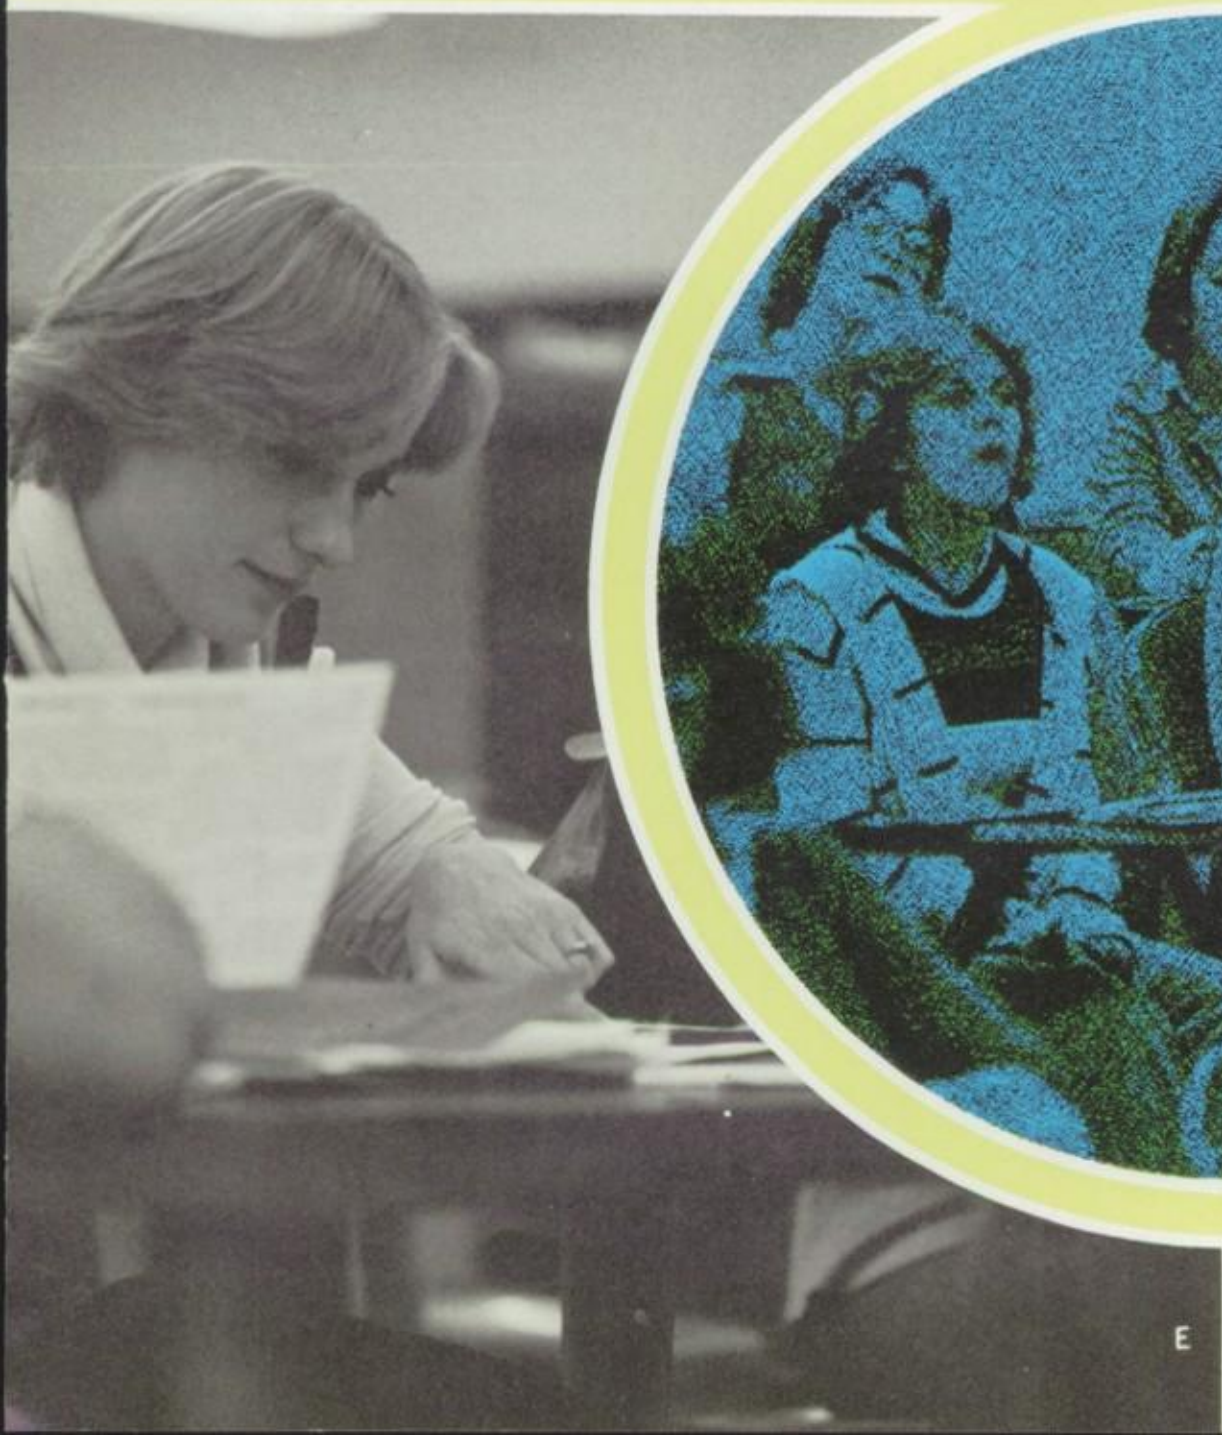

Squandered time can never be regained. Realizing this, many students used their time at Hopatcong High School to pursue varied personal and academic interests. Drama, chorus, sewing, cooking, photography, ceramics, weightlifting, jogging, typing, child rearing, and Far Eastern cultures were just a few of the areas made available to those students who were determined not to squander their time.

A. Debbie McKay adjusts her sewing machine during Home-Ec class. B. Ken Sudol, Linda King, and Barbara Smith compare notes during a library study. C. Karl Burkardt uses the lathe to fashion a leg for a woodworking project. D. Altos Val Crane, Charlene LaSala, Tammy Davis, and Janice Mauthe practice for the chorus Christmas concert. E. Sue Peters works on a career report for Mr. Schooling in the library. F. Period 3 co-ed gym plays a spirited game of crab soccer. G. Howard Deitz completes a project for mechanical drawing.

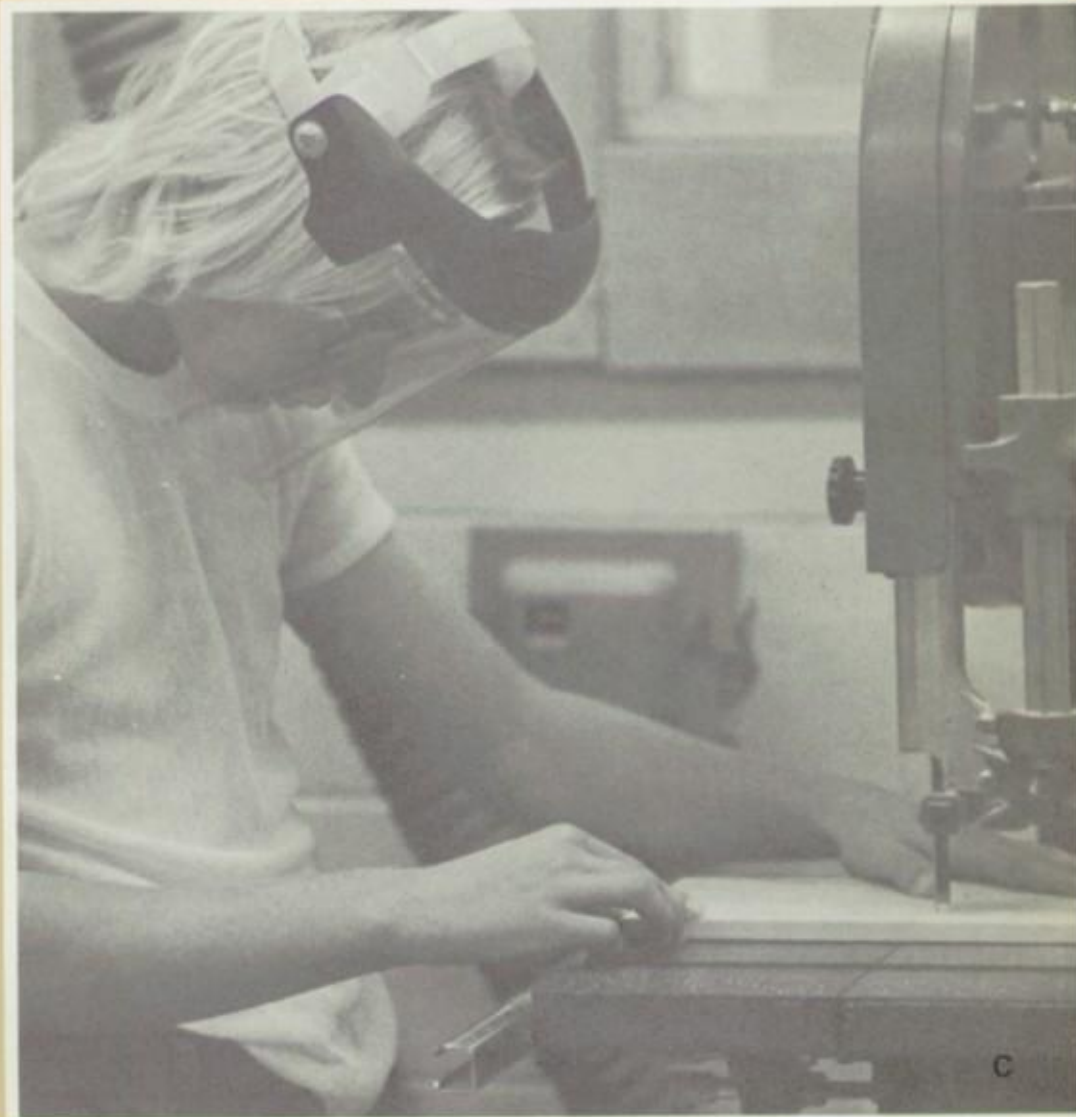

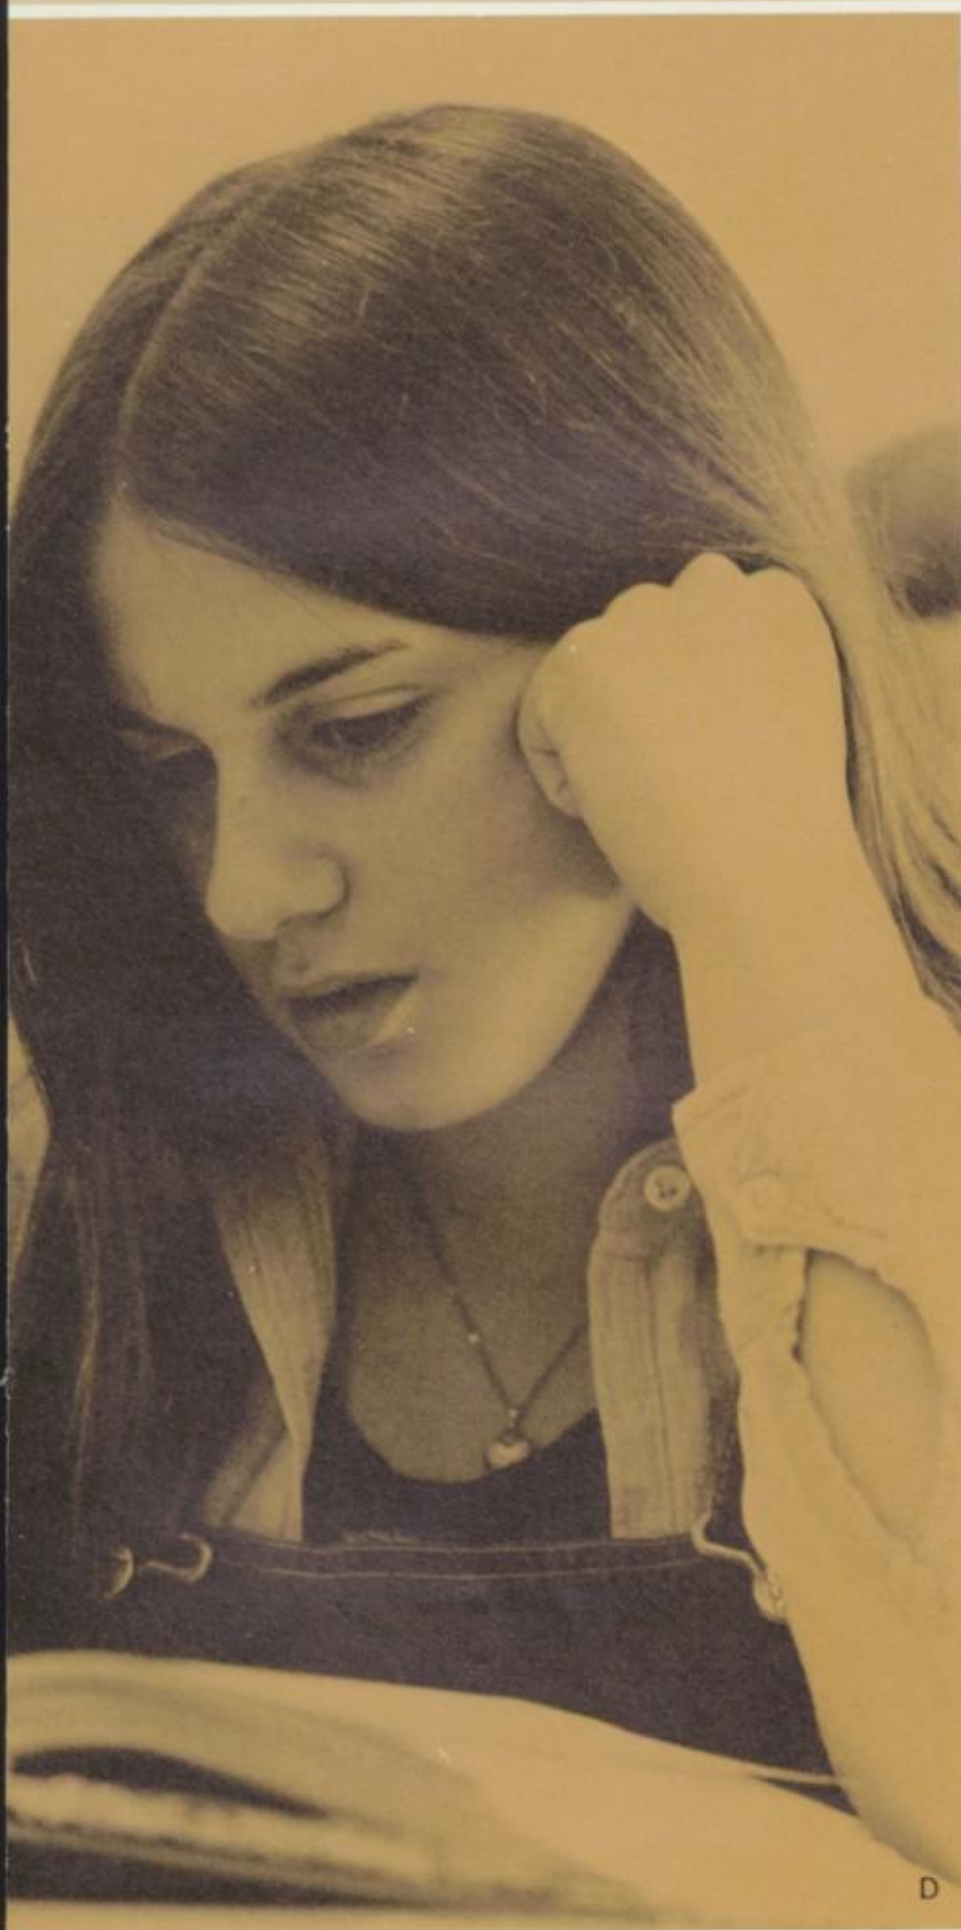

Lost Time Is Never Found Again

Franklin

A. Greg Evans carefully dissects a starfish in biology before going to lunch. B. Marta Noa stitches a new outfit. C. Joe Grazinski studies the position of his wood before cutting. D. Karen Scala wonders where she could have gone wrong in her figuring. E. Kathy Sturm creates an artist's masterpiece from a simple paper and scissors.

Use today's moments to their greatest potential, for only empty time is ever lost. Be aware of the passing of each day. Live every one to its very fullest. A moment spent in contemplation, study, creativity, or exercise may be recalled through the passages of the mind, bringing back the flavor of the instant. Life, with all its joys and sorrows, is meant to be lived. Go forth and meet it.

However We

Footsteps in an empty hallway followed quickly by young voices chattering and giggling, shouting and laughing. The sudden clanging of a bell. Lockers slamming. Doors shutting. Silence.

When we began our four years of high school, the time appeared to be endless. But as we progressed, we discovered that it was not the time but the opportunities which were truly endless. And now, as we end our high school careers, we are left with no time. Only the experiences remain.

A. Lars Petersen gets a kick out of Eugene Luaghenberg's observation regarding Ed Marquart's eating habits. B. Barbara Homan works diligently in the library to complete a homework assignment. C. Mary Schilling, Sonjui Lal, Cheryl Lambert, Neil Hever, Don Bogardus, and Cookie O'Connor dissect a lunch in the cafeteria. D. Beth Scott completes a macrome wall-hanging for her textiles class. E. Donna Hockenbary enjoys a moment of solitude in the senior privelege area. F. George Noa, Bob Doncourt, and Jason Parker rehearse for a performance of selections from "The Messiah." G. Phil Rinaldi spends a peaceful period in the nurse's office free from the rigors of class.

Who Hath Time Hath Life.

Seneca

As we passed through school, it often seemed we did the same things over and over. But how often did we consider that time was passing, and with each moment a piece of our lives passed too? Now we must leave the protected school environment and face the world on its terms with only ourselves to carry us through.

A. Katie Walsh, Kris Shuda, and Mike Hoer each study German from a different perspective. B. Scott Blohm struggles to find that book he knows is back there somewhere. C. A lone soul roams the halls of Hopatcong High. D. Robin Heroux's eyes speak of far away thoughts. E. Elayne Thompson pays close attention during chemistry. F. Mr. Gounaud relies on help from the overhead projector to make a point to his class.

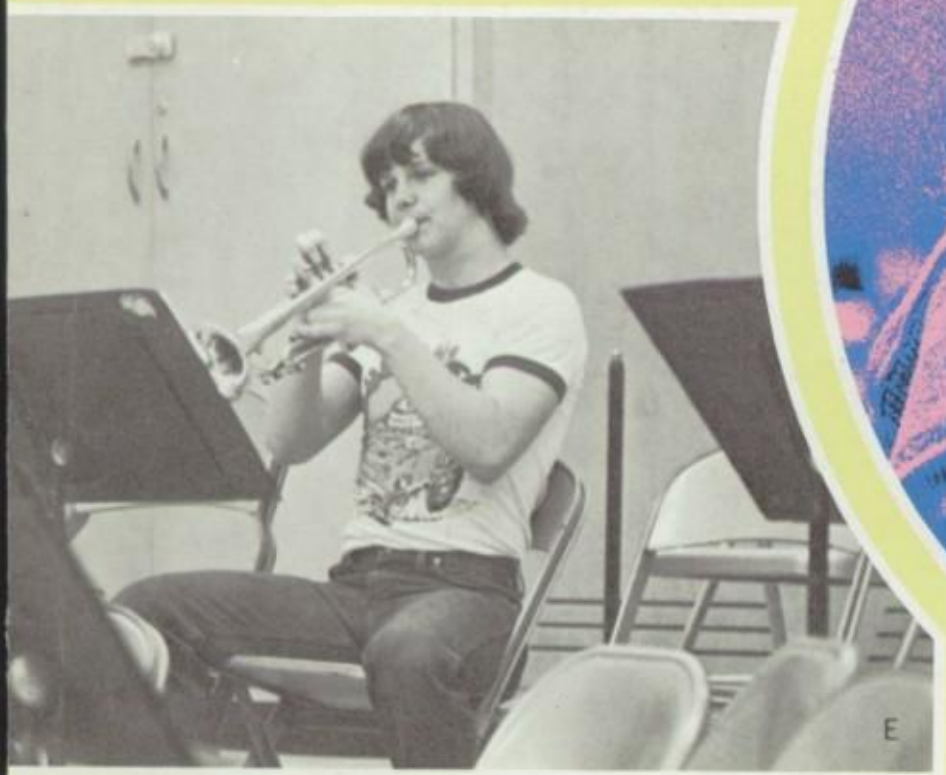

Time Was, Time Shall Be . . . But Where In Time Is Now?

J.Q. Adams

A. Mr. Hirleman gives his ceramics class a demonstration in the use of the potter's wheel. B. Lori Osmundsen and Jonica Webb put the finishing touches on a biology experiment. C. Lorelei Barrett adjusts her specimen slide during a lab for biology. D. Alice Hess works on a needle point project which she designed for her textiles class. E. Leroy McGuire realizes that the only way to progress as a musician is through constant practice. F. Scott Fitzgerald planes a cutting board he is making during a woodworking class.

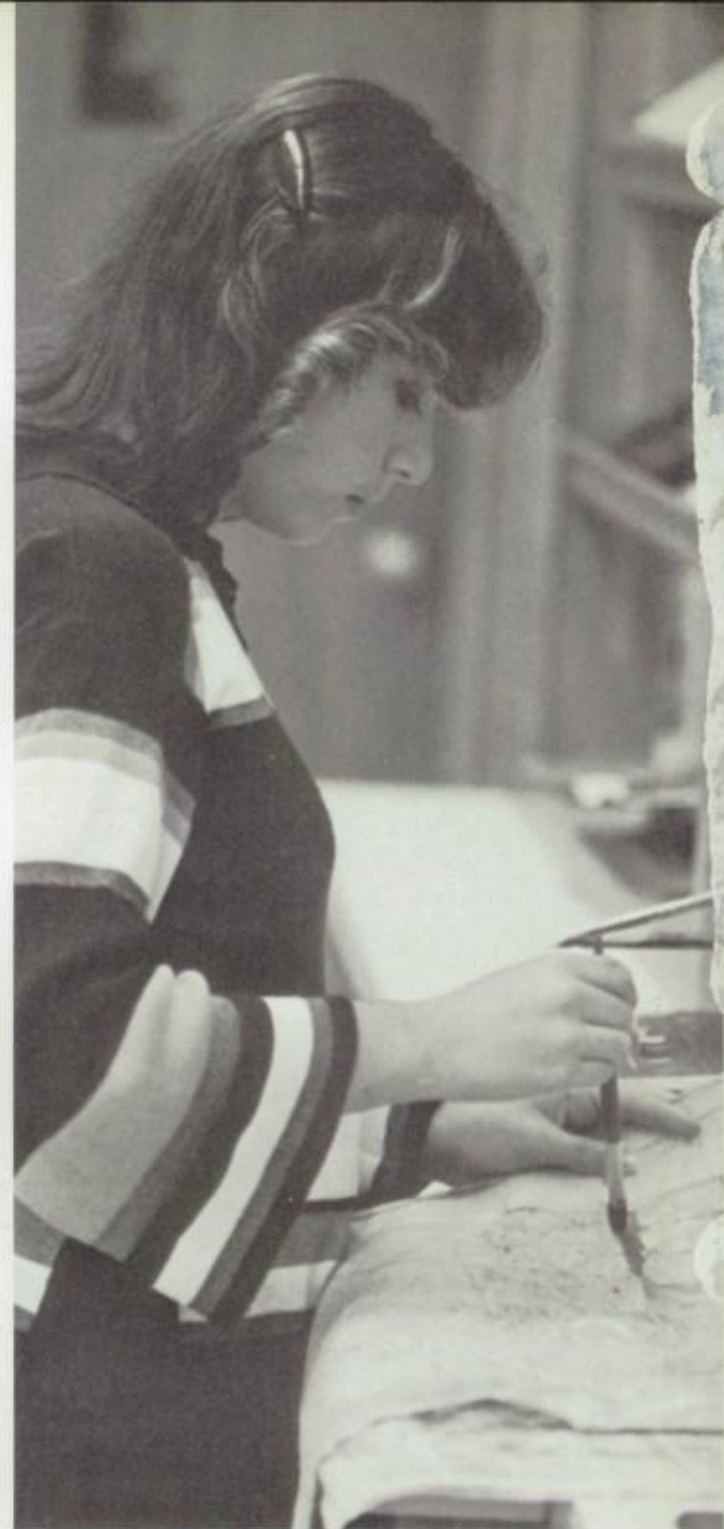

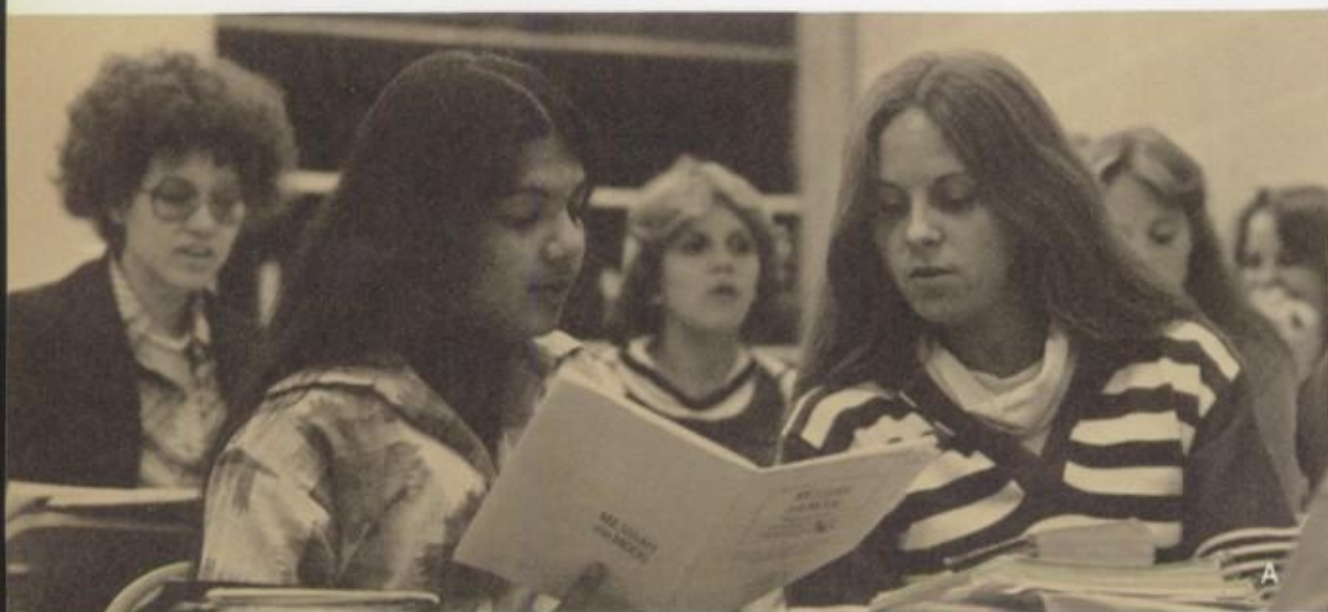

Through the study of history, we have tried to understand the past. But without the advantage of historical perspective, how can we hope to understand the present? Perhaps the present is not meant to be understood, but rather only to be lived. If we strive to understand the past, prepare for the future, and live for the moment, perhaps we will have done all anyone can.

Time Travels In Paces With Diverse Persons.

Shakespeare

A. Vicke Murchinson, Sonjui Lal, Charlene LaSala, and Karen Penn concentrate on "The Messiah." B. Lisa Lanelli applies hot wax to her batik design. C. Mrs. Proia checks Terry Kersey's microscope slide. D. Sue Flick intently practices her music. E. Charlene Finnigan is deeply involved in Shakespeare's Richard III. F. Chris Palumbo and June Davis provide guidance to students at Tulsa Trail School.

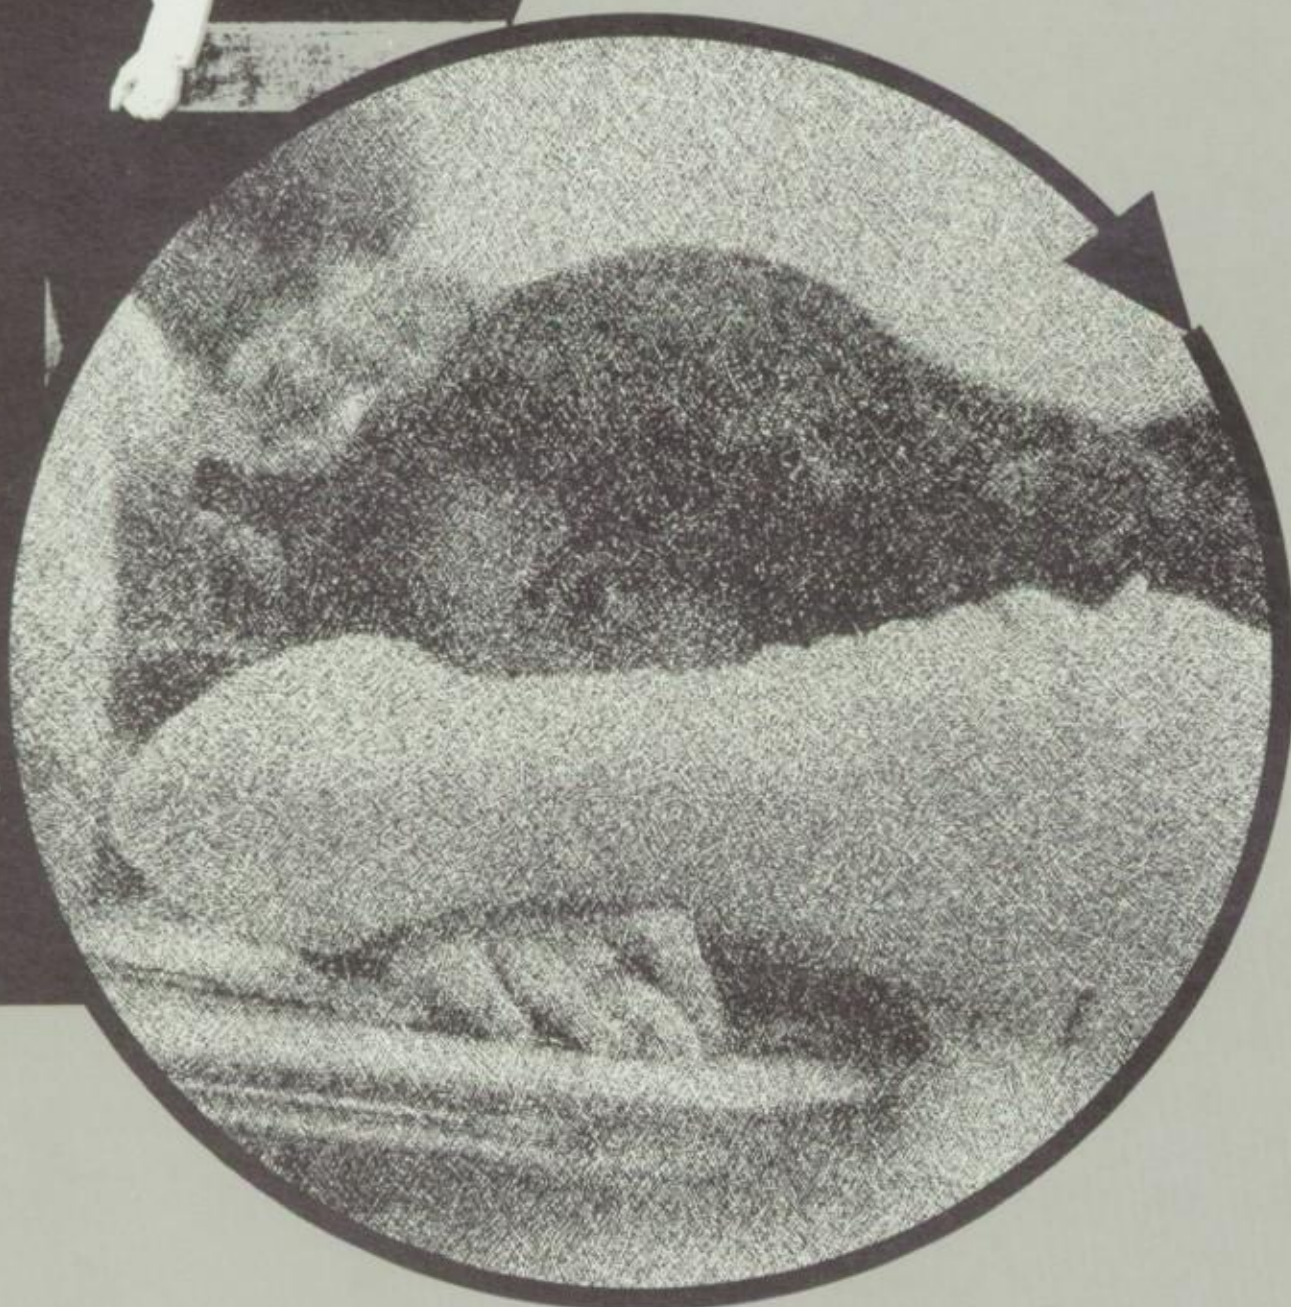

When we look back on the years we spent in high school, it is not likely that we will remember the grade we received on a particular test or quiz, or whether we managed to complete a specific homework paper. Rather, it will be the people whom we will remember — our friends, classmates, and teachers. The friendships we have made we will carry through a lifetime. It is these of which life and school are truly made.

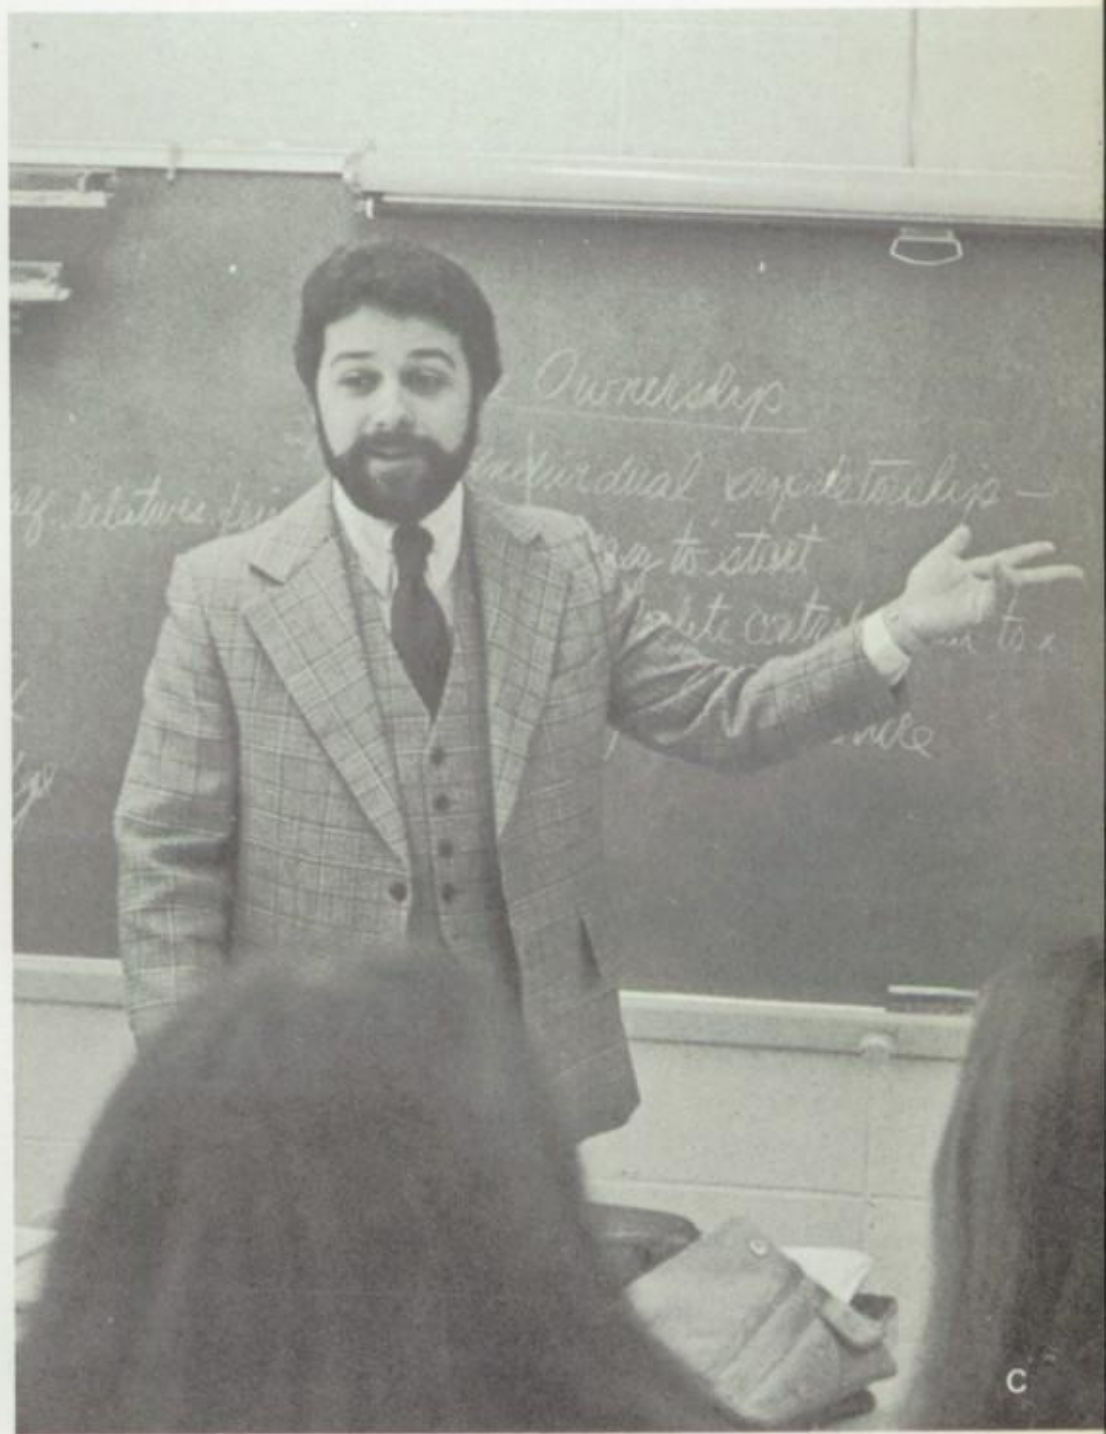

ACADEMICS

The Business Curriculum Is Geared To Employment Skills.

Hopatcong's business curriculum provides a broad introduction to the world of business. Personal typing and general business introduce basic typing skills and an over-all view of business. Basic and advanced courses are offered in typing, accounting, stenography, machine stenography and business math. For those with a career interest in business, courses are available in business law and secretarial office practice.

A. Kathi Moretti, Vicki Kimball and Margaret Hargadone gain practical business experience by filing results of the Community Survey. B. Cheryl Vilanova concentrates on her machine steno. C. Mr. Malanga lectures to his Distributive Ed. class on the finer points of retail marketing. D. Vivian Richardson corrects a rare typing error. E. Kim Scuzza is intent on a filing project.

Music, Theatre, And Art Encourage Creative Development.

The Fine Arts Department offers a taste of culture, Hopatcong style.

For students with a musical flair there are many valuable offerings. Mr. Hunsicker's theory class introduces basic principles of musical composition, while chorus, also under Mr. Hunsicker's direction provides the opportunity to develop a vocal talent. For those students who enjoy instrumental music, Mr. Bartz offers both band and individual lessons.

The art curriculum includes courses in ceramics, jewelery, textiles, photography and drawing. Mr. Hirleman's ceramics students produced numerous beautiful pieces, and members of Mrs. Bird's advanced art workshop co-operated to design the abstract mural which decorates B-Wing.

In theatre arts with Mr. Schooling students explore nearly every aspect of the stage including make-up, lighting, set construction, properties and publicity.

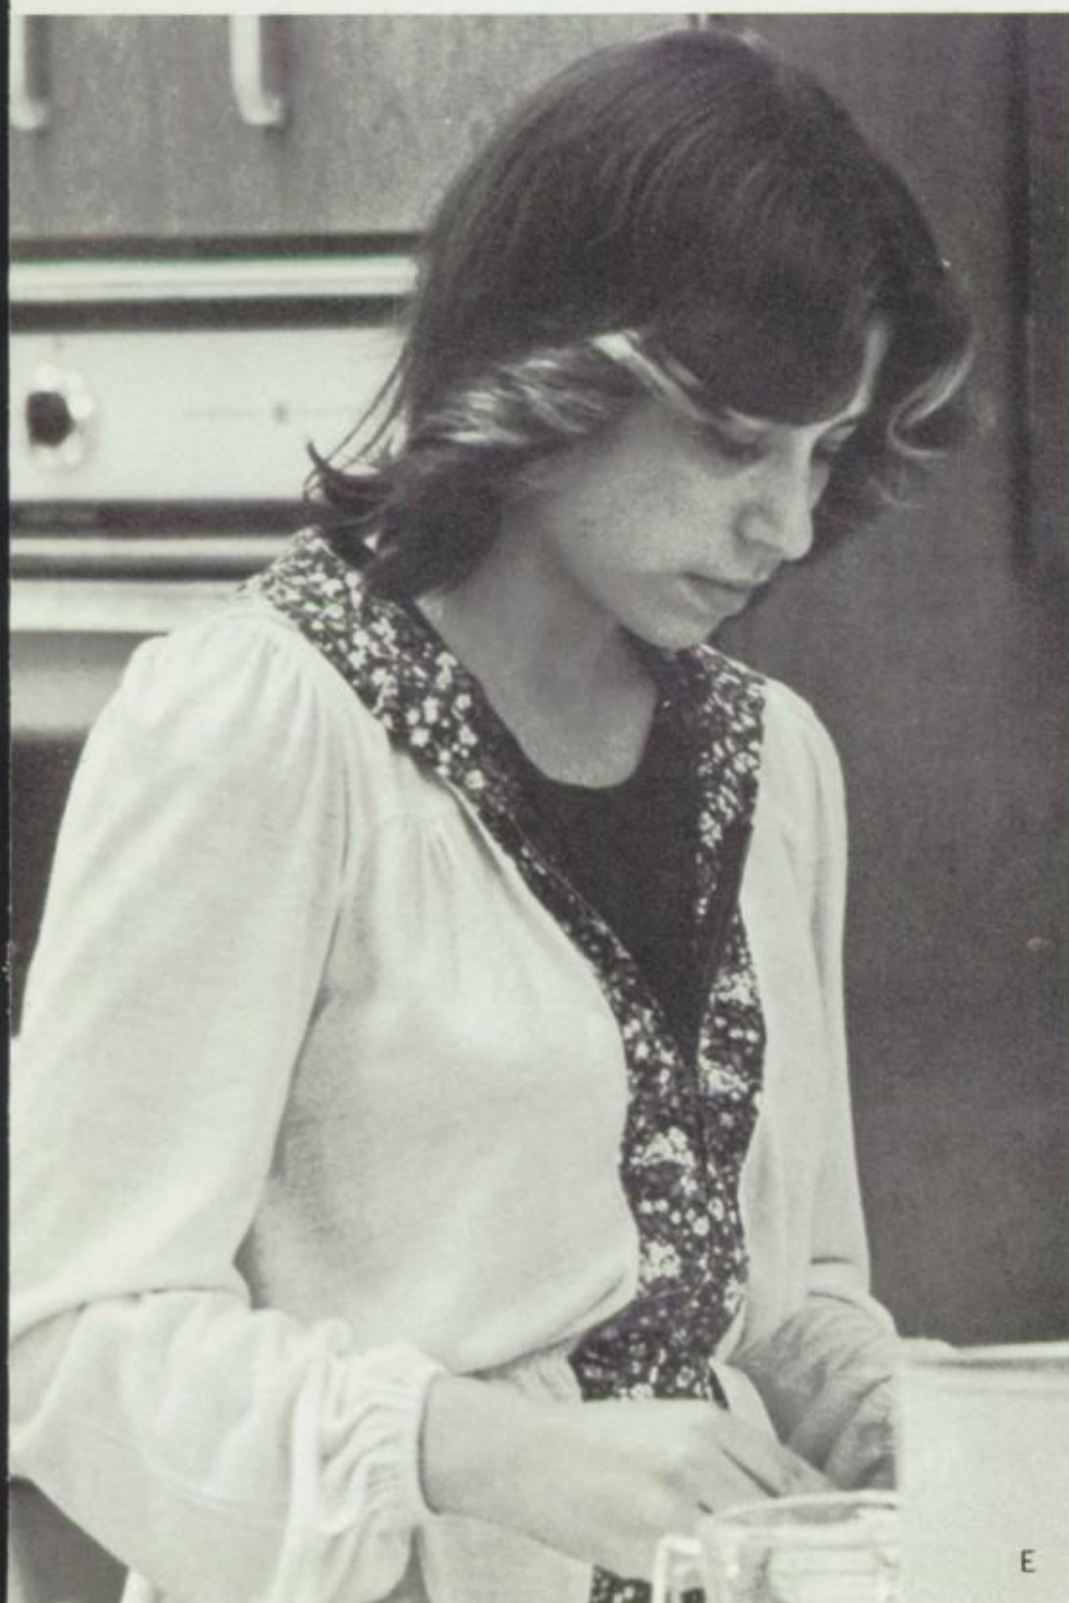

A. Carol Hayde and Jayne Brown add to the Chorus Christmas Concert with their version of "Aspenglow".
 B. Steve Naples robs Jorge Noa in a scene from "Exit the Body". C. Pat Mancini works on a sculpture project in ceramics class.
 D. Lori Davis polishes a piece of original jewelry.
 E. Steve McCabe makes a delicate cut on his paper sculpture.
 F. Mr. Bartz aids Sue Flick with her flute practice.

Home-Ec Produces Skilled Homemakers.

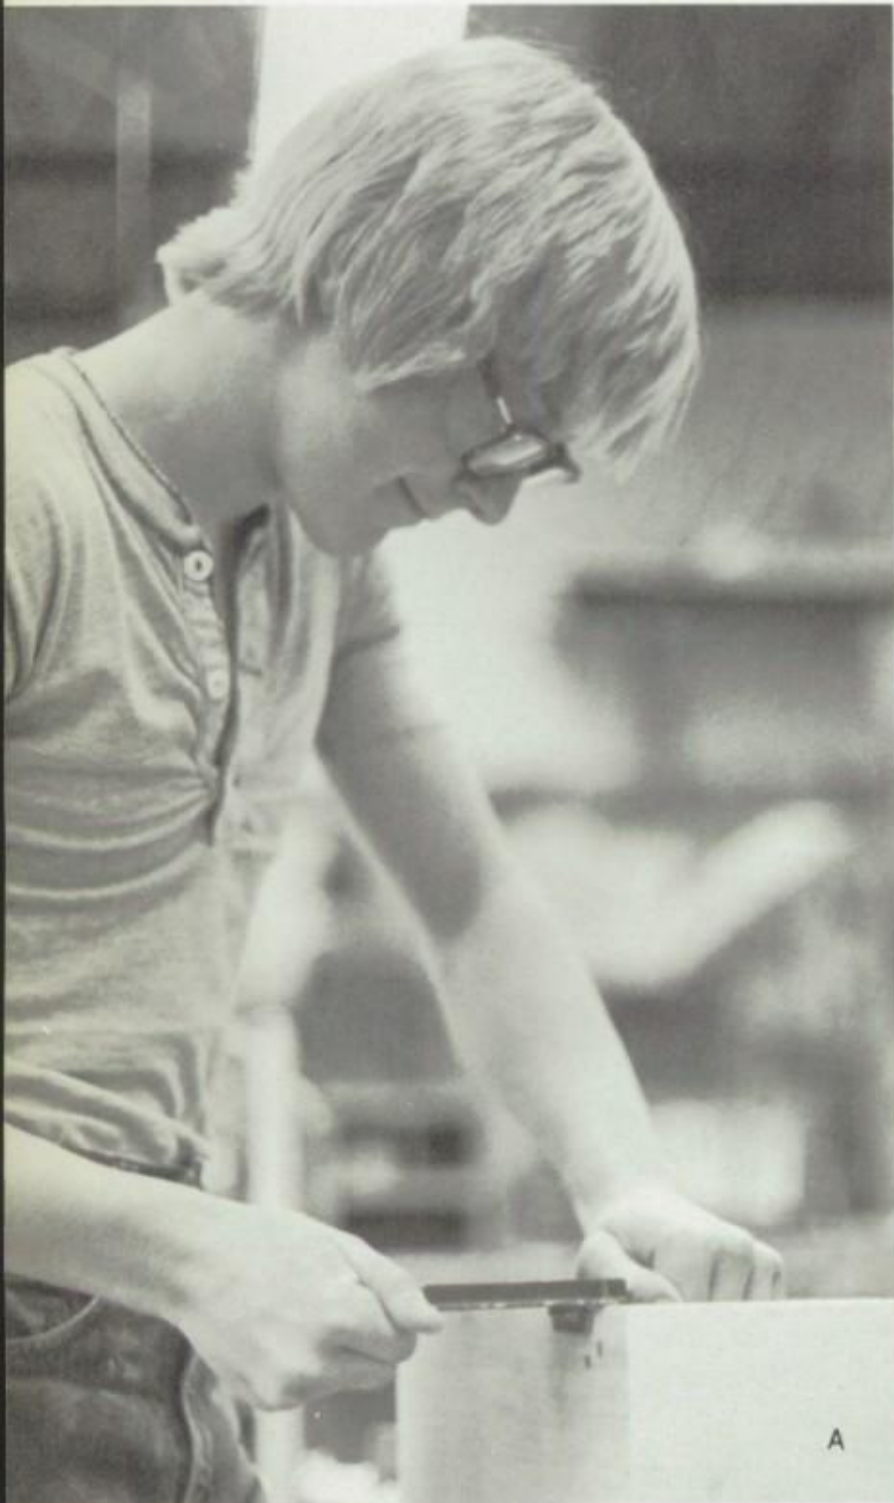

Classes in sewing, cooking, crafts and family living are offered on several levels for all students. The knowledge available here can be some of the most useful after high school. Mrs. R. Zotnia and Mrs. R. Malagna teach sewing from straight seams to original clothing design. Students gain practical experience in culinary arts from basic measures to cooking full course meals and complicated pastries. Nutrition and money management are included in this course as well. Various crafts and ideas for home decorating are offered for interested students. In these and other ways, the Home Economics department at H.H.S. fills a vital purpose on the educational curriculum.

A. With happy faces, Lori Archer and Vivian Richardson prepare a meal. B. Lucy Smith carefully pins a pattern to her fabric before cutting. C. Maureen Donnelly checks her rising bread dough. D. Bonnie Havrilla searches the pattern book for a Home Ec. project. E. Lisa Ianelli practices baking skills. F. Maureen Donnelly, Donna Bloom, Ginnie O'Keefe, Rose Comeau and Denise Bloom rub shoulders in cooking class.

Industrial Arts Courses Introduce Students To Practical Skills.

Whether it's to learn a trade or just to be able to work with your hands, Industrial arts training is a valuable experience.

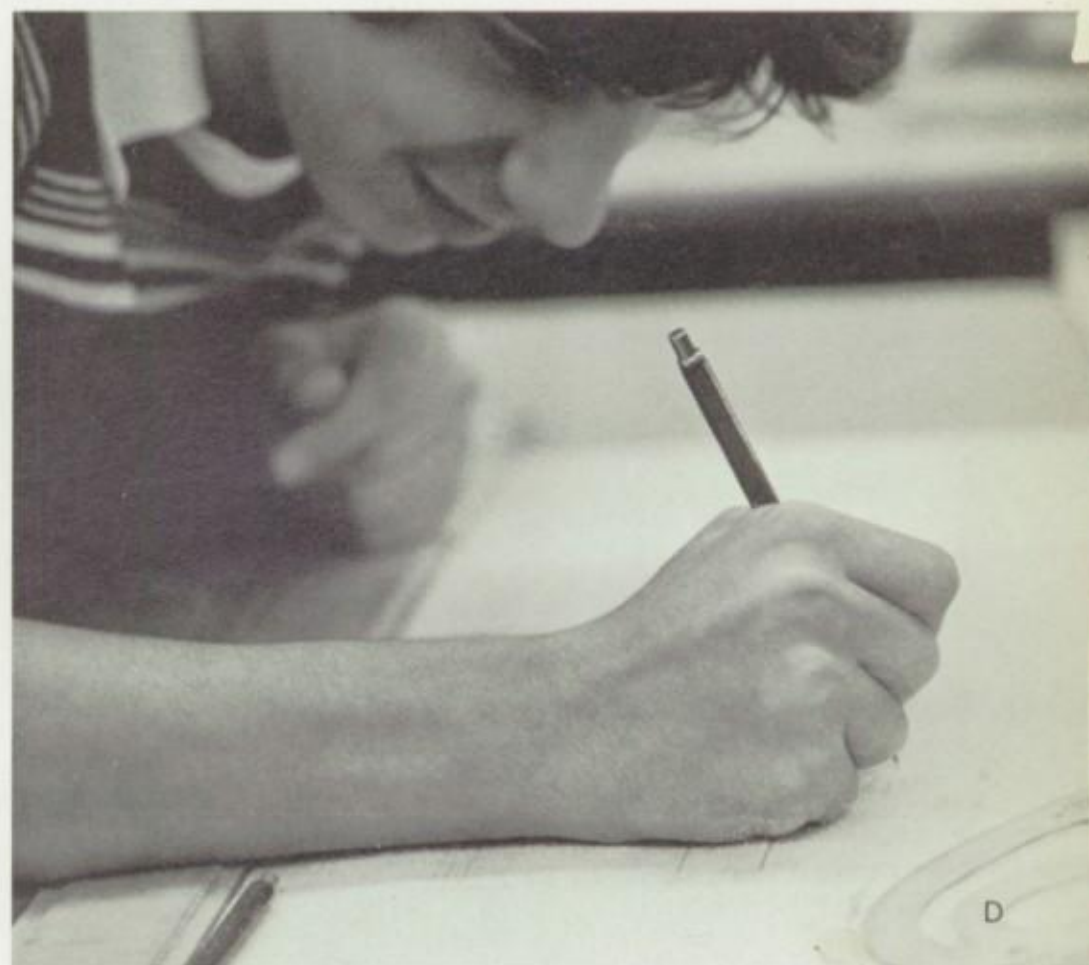

In the first-year Wood and Metal shops, students are introduced to the basic principles of I.A. In the second year, students are allowed to use all the power machines, and they learn the operation and maintenance of each.

Four years of mechanical drawing are also offered by the industrial arts department. Students start with an introduction to drafting, and continue through the last year when an independent study approach is used.

A semester course in welding is also available in which students study both gas and electric welding.

A. Scott Carlson squares off his project for wood shop. B. Frank Dewalt uses clamps to hold his work together while he waits for the glue to dry. C. Welding experience provides students with an introduction to a marketable trade. D. Jeff Friccione works carefully on a sketch for his mechanical drawing class. E. A student uses the lathe to shape a base for a lamp. F. John Swanson and Mr. Werner observe Don Paone's handiwork on the jigsaw.

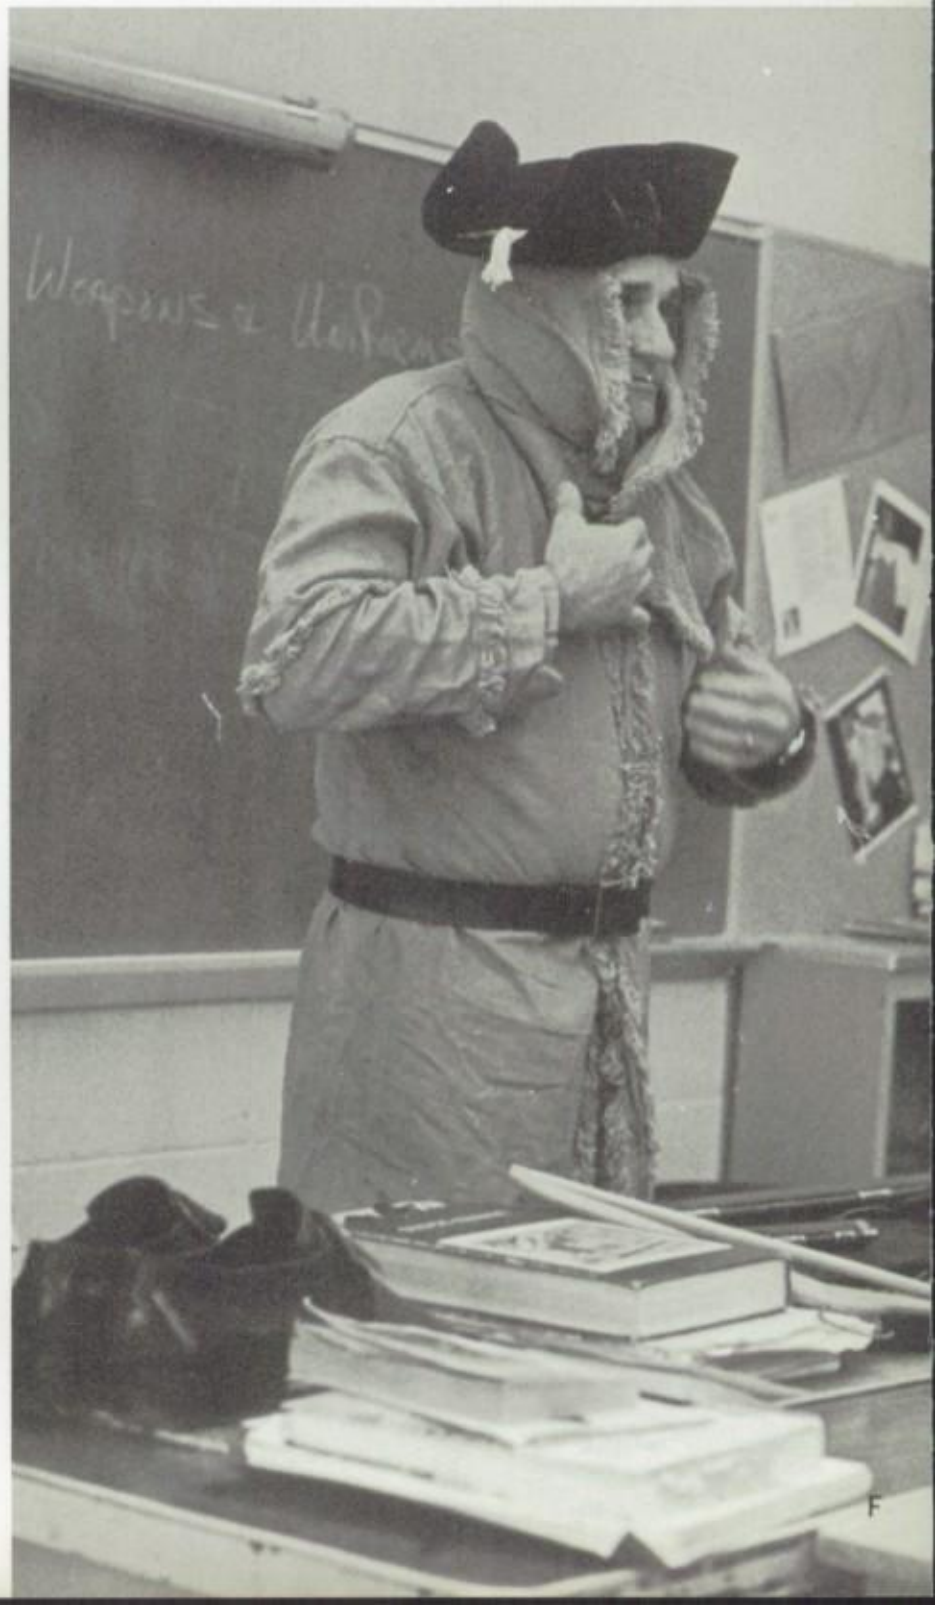

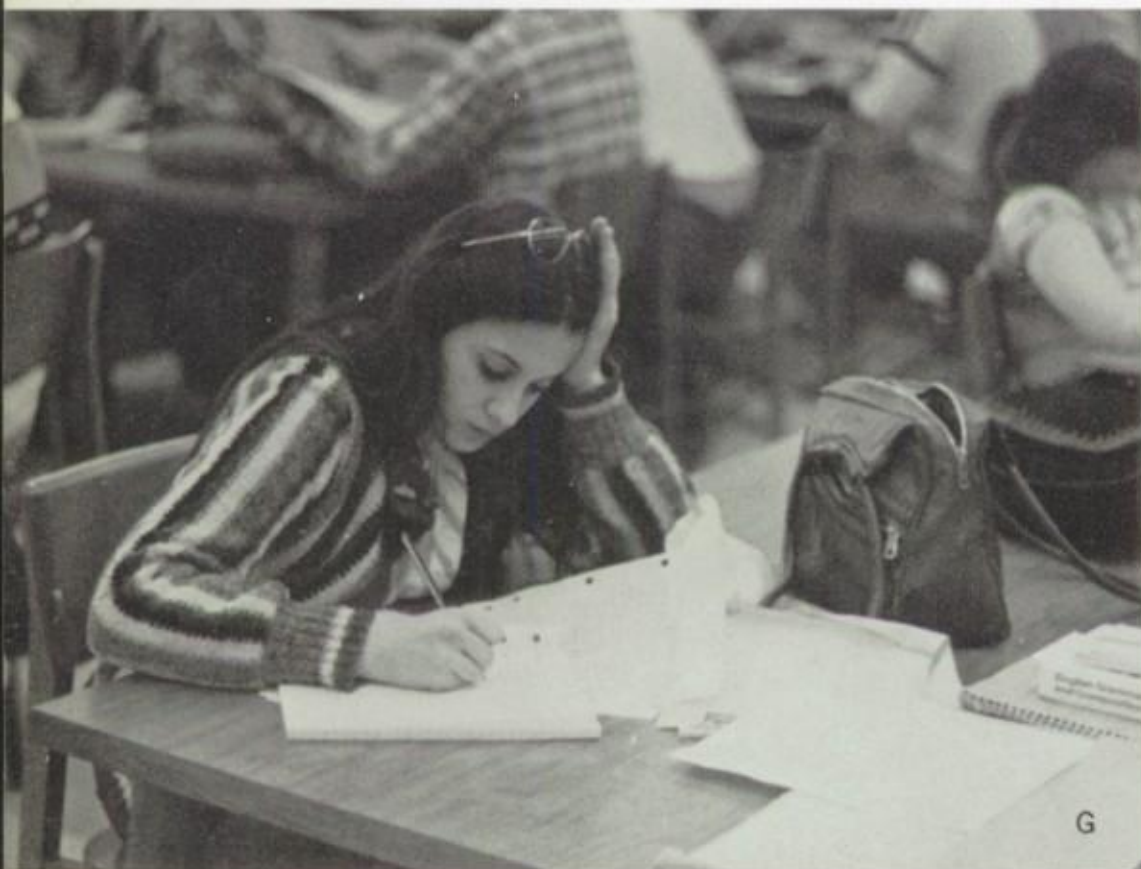

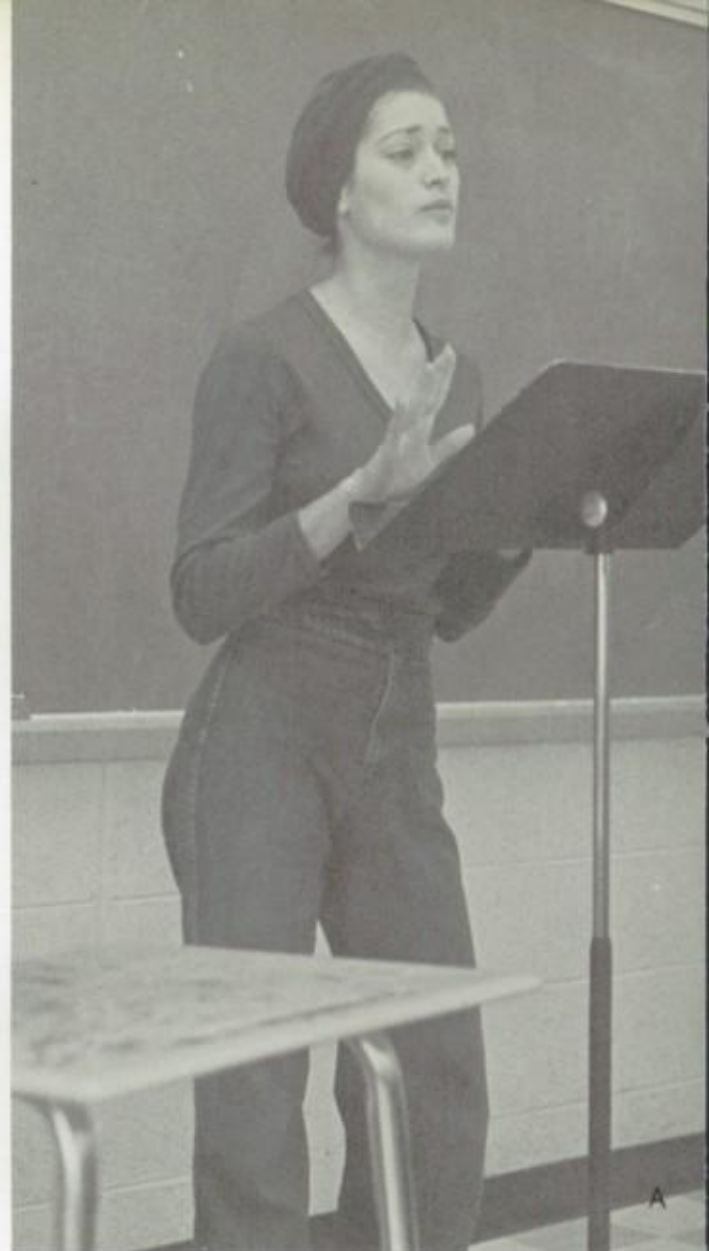

Liberal Arts Are The Soul Of The Curriculum.

Liberal arts forms the core of any school's curriculum.

The English program provides students with the reading; writing, and verbal skills needed to survive in college or on the job. Over four years, a student's reading is likely to range from "Beowulf" to "Cat's Cradle". Writing experiences include poetry, paragraphs, essays and the dreaded term paper. The senior curriculum include introductions in the specialized areas of journalism and speech and debate.

Along with the required two years of US History, social studies offerings include sociology, psychology, contemporary issues, modern European history and Mr. Prestopine's challenging Far Eastern History. Only the boldest of students dare enroll for the latter. Ms. Keeler still reigns as first lady of the department.

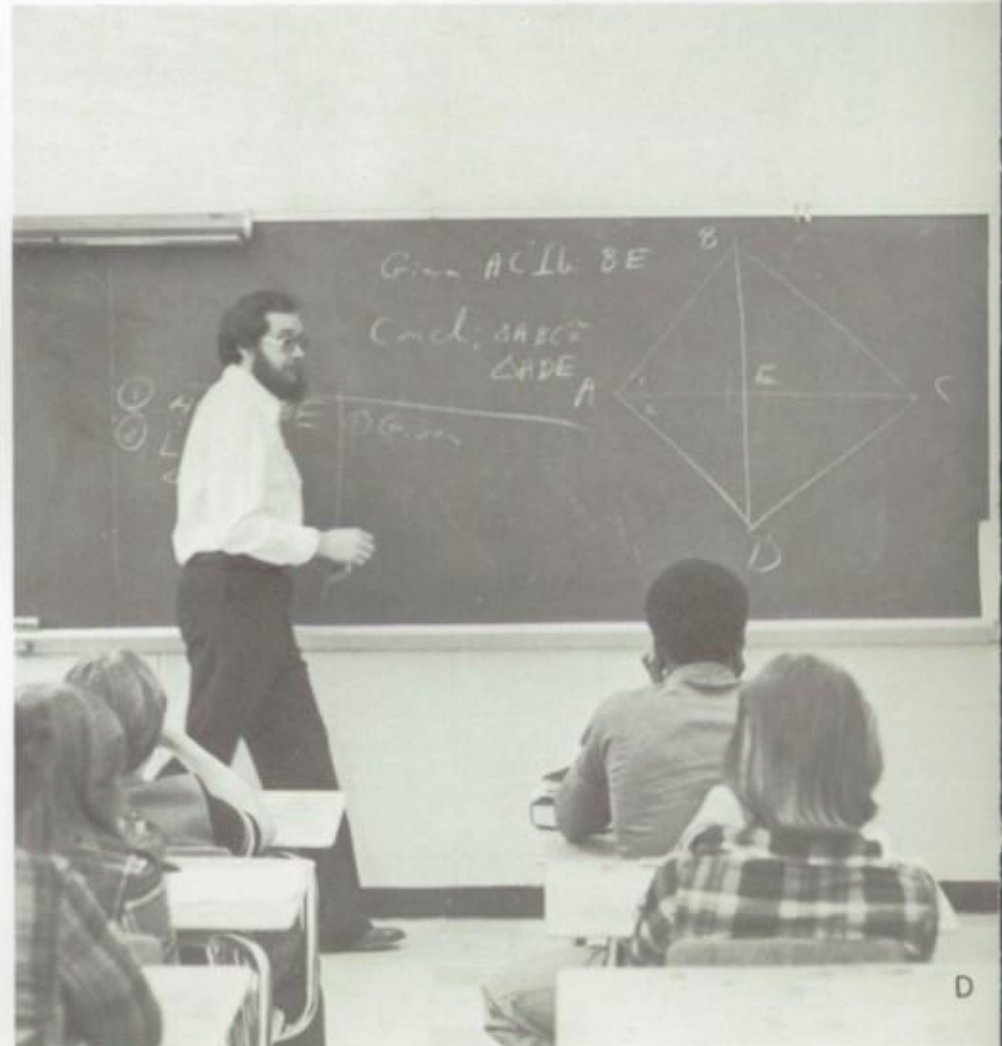

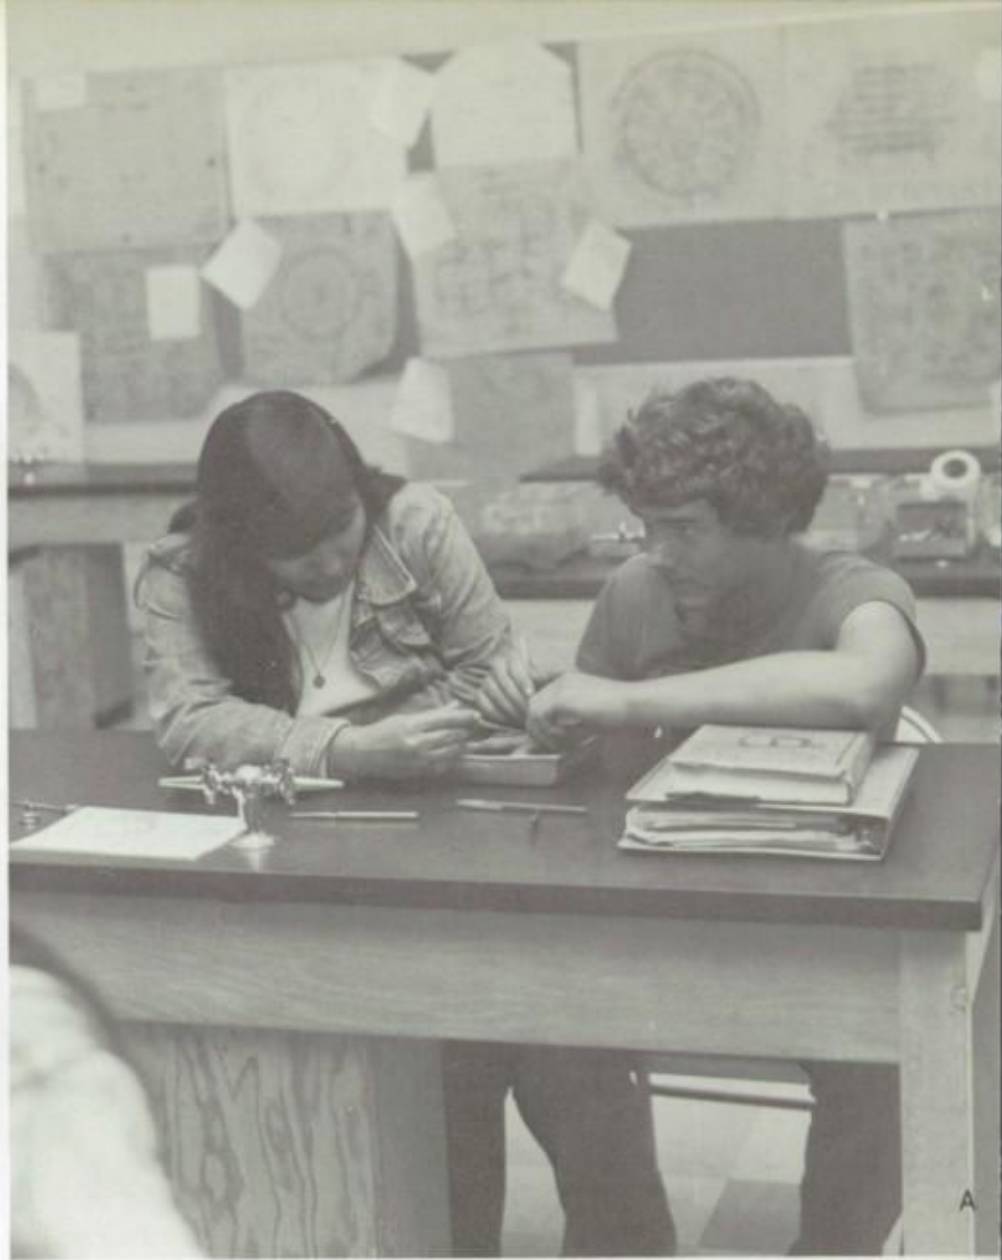

In the foreign language department, students are able to choose from French, German and Spanish, with Mrs. Balint's Spanish class emerging as the most popular, at least among the boys.

A. Roma Puccio explains an important concept in her speech for senior English. B. Jeanne Pastore, Bob Nowatnik, and Jack Petrunyak examine the Spanish alphabet with Mrs. Balint. C. Robin McGukin uses the unabridged dictionary to glean the meaning of a word. D. Mrs. U.Lal answers questions about India for Mr. Prestopine's Far Eastern history class. E. Mr. Ziegler points out New Jersey for history student Don Burdge. F. Mr. Prestopine uses his uniform from the 2nd New Jersey Regiment to dramatize conditions at Valley Forge for a U.S. I class. G. Karen Scala languishes over a term paper in the library.

- A. Ina Machuka and John Janasko contemplate their starfish.
B. Jenny Barbour picks at her specimen.
C. Lori Osmundsen gets her biology paraphenalia together.
D. Mr. Gallinot explains the complexities of the polygon.
E. Tina Webb talks to her plants.

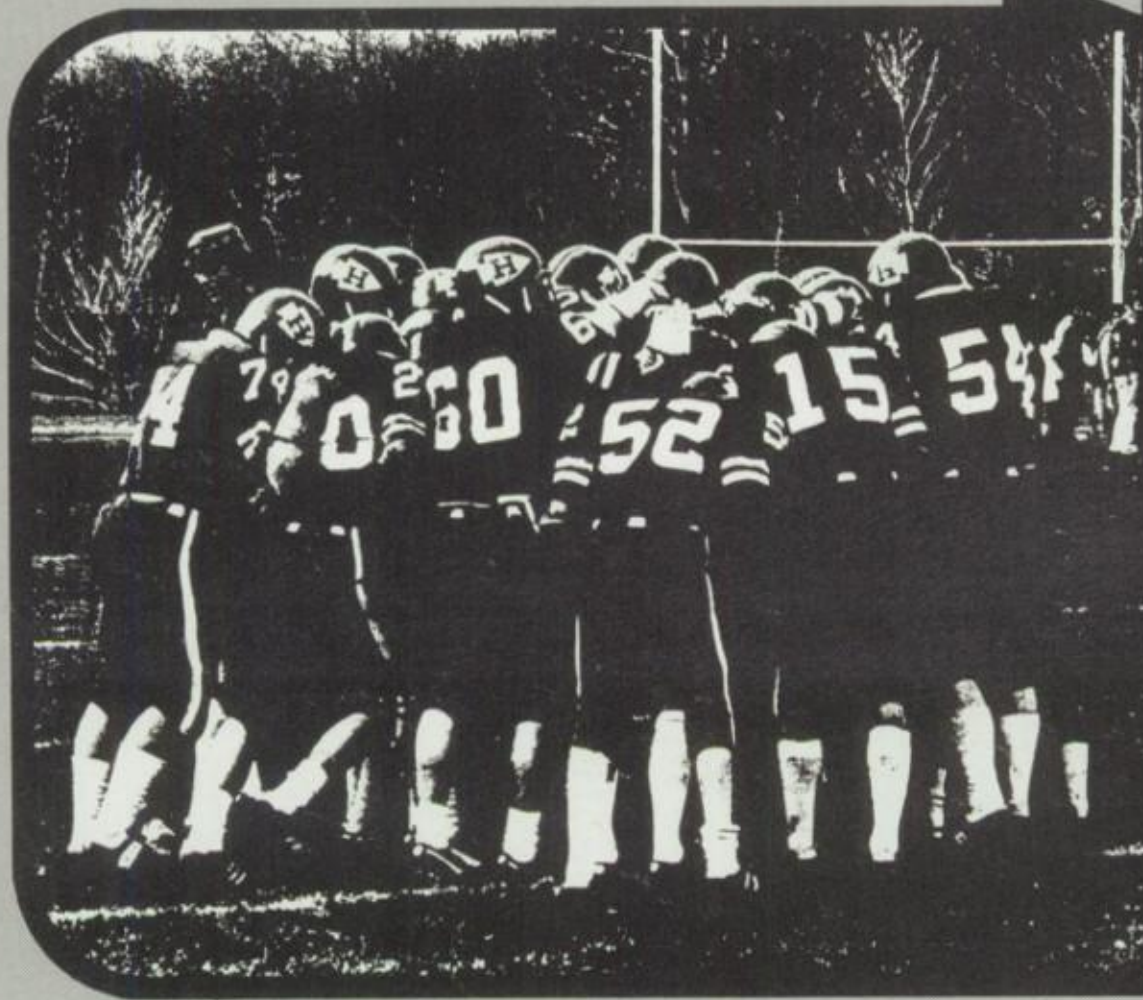

Math And Science Offerings Challenge Even The Brightest Minds.

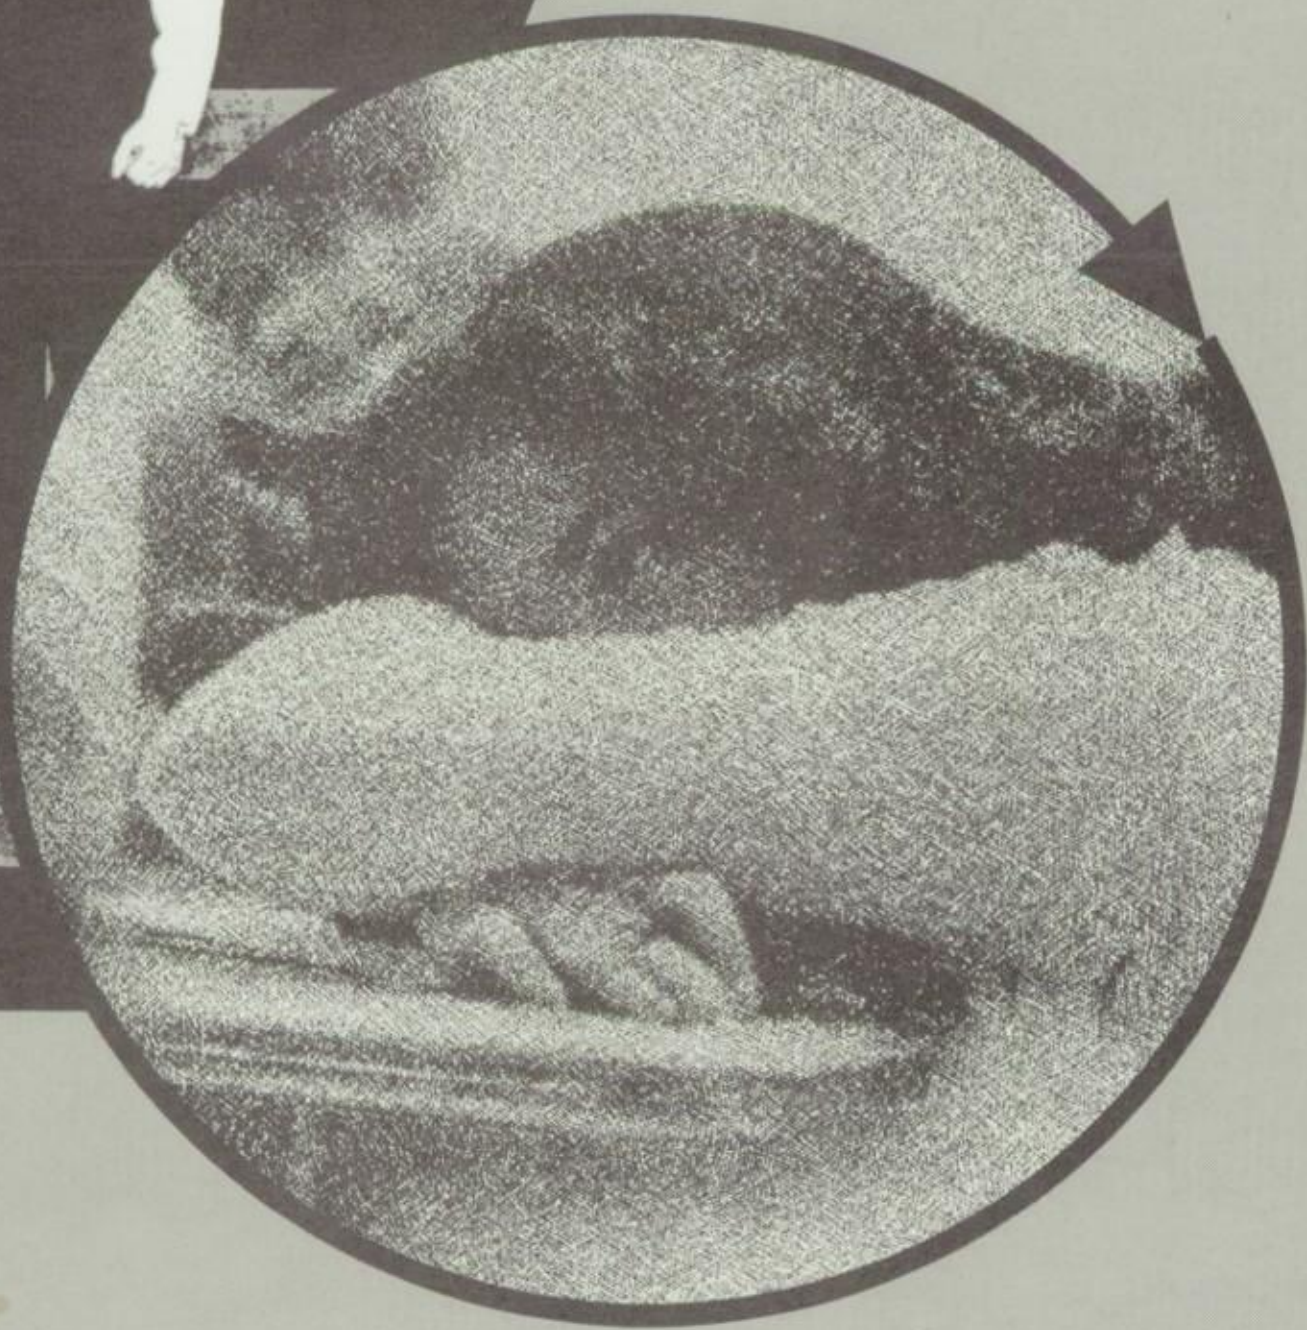

Hopatcong High School offers math classes ranging from algebra and geometry to trigonometry, probability and calculus. The result is often a slightly jumbled memory of $x + y$, protractors, sliderules, theorems and postulates that will hopefully solidify into a solid background of mathematical skill.

With talk of chemicals in the foods we eat and the air we breath, students of today need a practical background in science. Earth science is a general but useful introduction to practical science. In chemistry I and II, students discover the properties of various elements, and, through lab experiments, how they react with each other. Two years of biology and lab tech can teach how plants and animals function and what effect chemicals may have on them. For those interested in learning practical applications for mathematics, a course in physics, with lab, is offered.

PERFORMANCIES

CHORUS: A Harmony Of Voice And Spirit

This year's chorus, under the direction of Mr. Ronald Hunsicker, has done much to maintain the tradition of musical excellence and achievement of which H.H.S. is so proud.

With its nearly 60 members dressed in colorful mittens and scarfs, the chorus began its season with an evening performance of Christmas Carols at the Rockaway Townsquare Mall. Later in December, the chorus presented its annual Christmas concert to a crowd of nearly 400 appreciative listeners. Featured soloists included Jorge Noa singing "This One's for You" and exchange student Hiroko Eshima singing "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" in her native Japanese. The program included two selections from Handel's "Messiah". The standing ovation which marked the conclusion of the performance was testimony to the singers' musical skills.

The program for the spring concert in May featured pop music of the 60's and 70's. A medley of Beatles' hits met with particular audience approval. The prom theme, "Theme from Mahogany" was another favorite.

The spring concert marked the final appearance of chorus president Neil Hever, the only senior with four years of chorus experience.

A. Bases Don Bogardus, Bill Austin, Steve Miller, and Alan Babich are intent on their music (and possibly their pitch) at the Rockaway Mall performance. B. An overhead view shows the tenors and basses with Mr. Hunsicker accompanying on piano. C. Altos Sonjui Lal, Karen Scala, and Claudia Marmaro entertain with Christmas Carols. D. Members of soprano section perform during the finale of the Christmas Concert. E. Heidi Bendiksen and Claudia Marmaro sing their harmonized version of "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas." F. The chorus fills the main stairway of the Rockaway Townsquare Mall to overflowing.

The Marching Chiefs Added Color To Fall Afternoons.

Hopatcong's Marching Chiefs suffered somewhat from depleted ranks and disorganization early in the season. However, under the direction of Miss Kathy Bryson, the Chiefs worked dilligently to overcome their difficulties and soon prepared a number of fine shows for football games and parades.

The group was led by three outstanding seniors: drum major Donna Yates, color guard captain Laura Mondschein, and twirlers captain Linda King. Working with an enthusiastic group of young Chiefs, these leaders generated great spirit which continued through the highs and lows of the season.

A. Drum major Donna Yates leads the Marching Chiefs down River Styx Road in their first parade of the season. B. Twirlers Mandy Adair, Robin' Westerfield, and Linda Westerfield twirl to the theme from "Rocky" during a halftime presentation. C. Color guard members carry "school spirit" into the community. D. Members of the band and twirlers root on the football team.

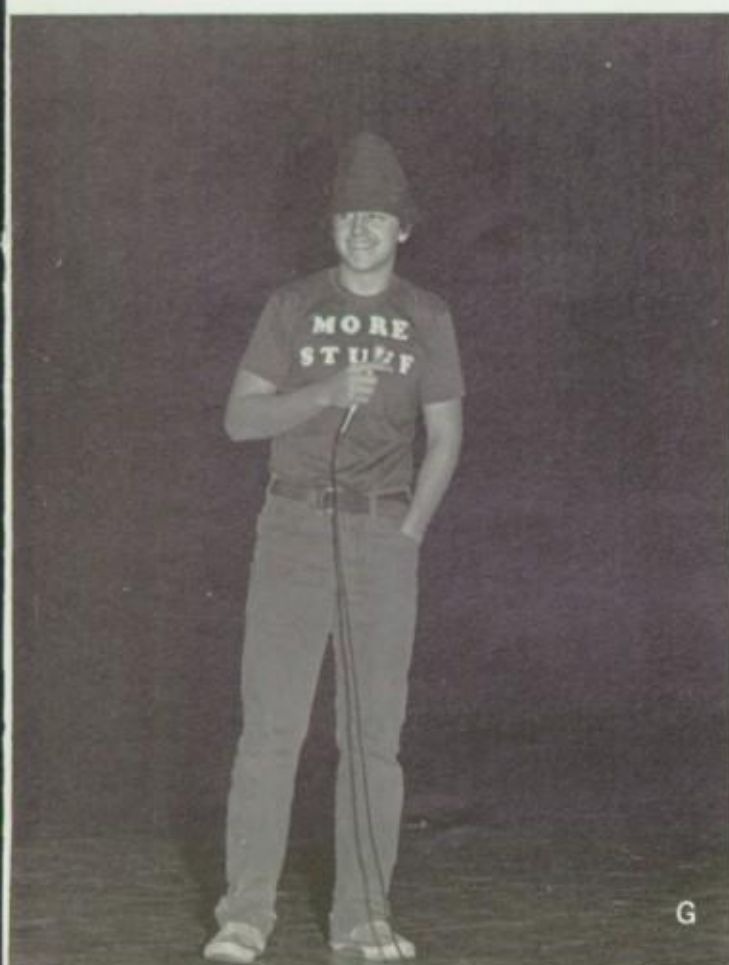

Christmas Bells Were Transformed To Christmas Gongs

In the midst of a bustling school year, the senior class presented the traditional Christmas assembly. Struggling to surmount disagreements over format and casting, interested seniors, under the direction of Jorge Noa, developed a presentation. Rehearsal time was difficult to arrange, and last minute run-throughs and costume fittings were a common sight the week before Christmas.

On the Friday before the holiday, the show finally emerged — a parody of "The Gong Show" with Dave Cregar as host. A four-judge panel alternately scored and gonged several acts involving most of the senior class.

As a grand finale, performers and audience joined with great spirit but little harmonizing in singing Christmas carols. And the Class of '78 emerged from the experience as a more strongly unified and cooperative senior class.

A. Donna Davis and Hiroko Eshima delight the audience and panel with the Japanese version of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer". B. Tony Oliva and John Thormann rock to Christmas music sung 50's style. C. Panel judges Lisa Anderson, Kim Eckhart, Lori Vecoli, and Fred Geisler rate one of the shows "better" acts. D. "Four calling birds" from "The Twelve Days of Christmas" wing by vocalists Karen Penn and Sonjui Lal. E. Tim Cullen performs under his stage name of Gene, Gene, the Dancin' Machine! F. Harpo Marx comes back to life as Santa in this skit featuring Vicki Vitelli, Will Pakutka, and Bob Peretti. G. Dave Cregar gives a zany performance as "Chuck", host of "The Gong Show".

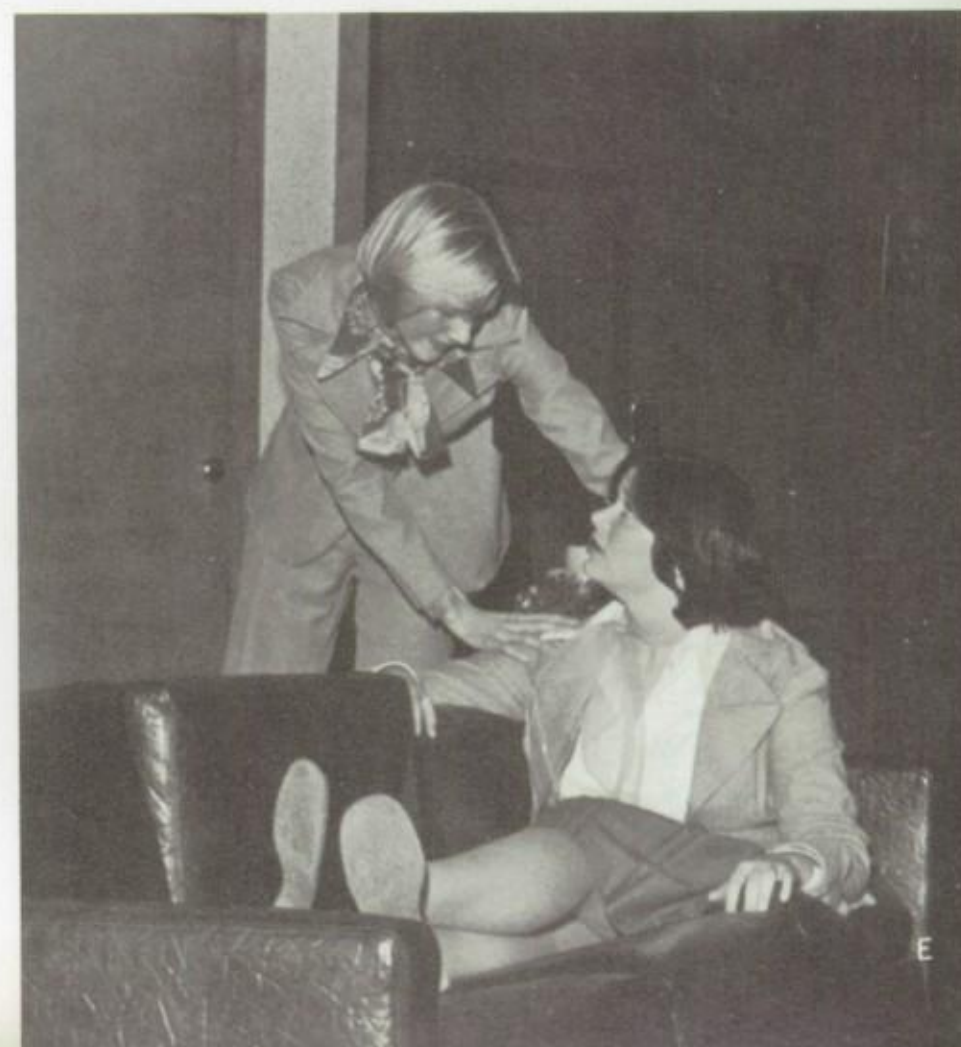

Jewels? "The Ice Is In The Ice."

Exit the Body is a farce set in a rural farm house littered with jewels and hidden bodies.

The action begins when Crane Hammond (Claudia Marmaro) pretends that her friend's husband (Austin Newman) is actually her own. It concludes with a wild chase in search of the missing jewels.

Neil Hever and Kookie O'Connor gave particularly enjoyable performances as two down-east Vermonters.

Crew: 1st row, J. Parker, K. Freericks, J. Gallichio, S. White, C. Lambert, C. Pirro, J. Fresh, B. Hrubby, H. Bendiksen 2nd row, S. Heim, L. Laubengeiger, L. Eckhardt, D. Oliva, D. Davis, J. The Cemetery In Spoon River Came To Life On Stage.

Through their successful production of Edgar Lee Maater's Spoon River Anthology, the Hopatcong Players proved that high school performers are capable of handling even the most difficult of dramatic challenges. Ten actors and actresses interpreted 72 character monologues, each portraying the life and death of an inhabitant of the mythical town of Spoon River, Illinois. Arena staging allowed the cast to establish a strong sense of intimacy with the audience. Seven musicians and two singers, under the direction of Claudia Sklenar, provided musical interludes during the course of the show.

Daryl Lambert, Howard Leon, Elizabeth O'Connor, and Bernadette Hruby made their theatrical debuts with Spoon River. Seniors Jorge Noa, Cheryl Lambert, Sonjui Lal, Neil Hever, and Heidi Bendiksen added to their already lengthy lists of stage credits.

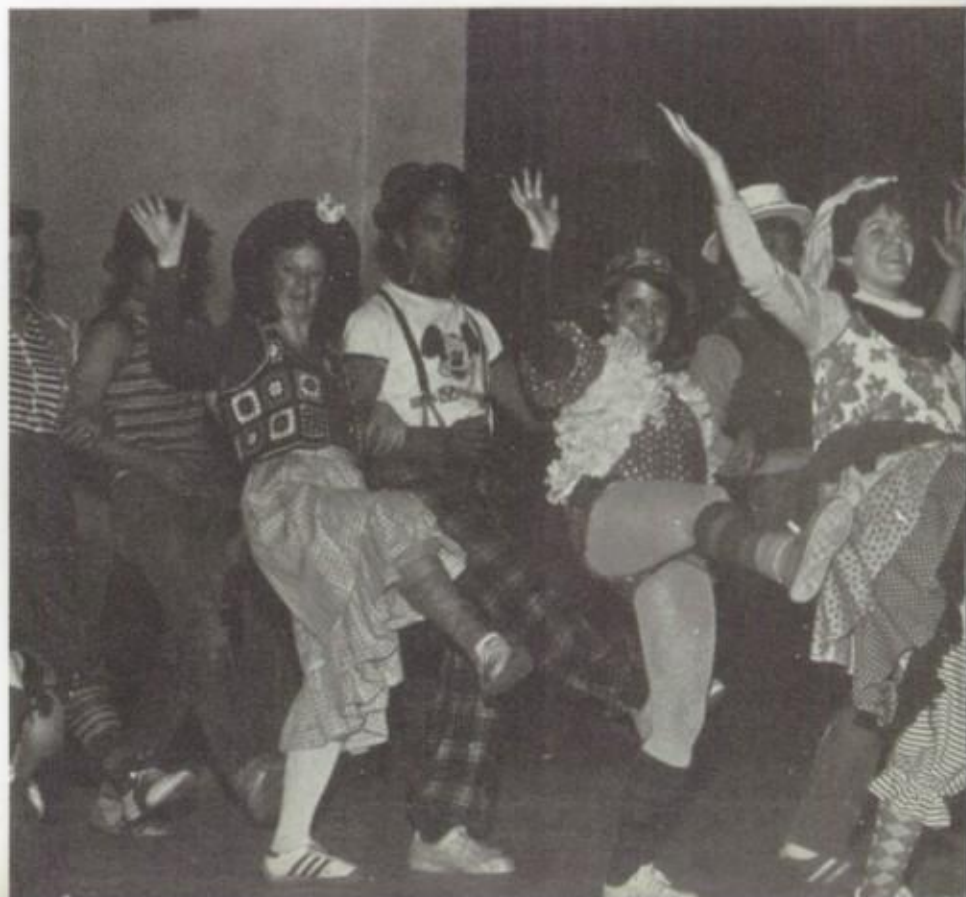

Spring Musical: "Godspell" Is "All For The Best".

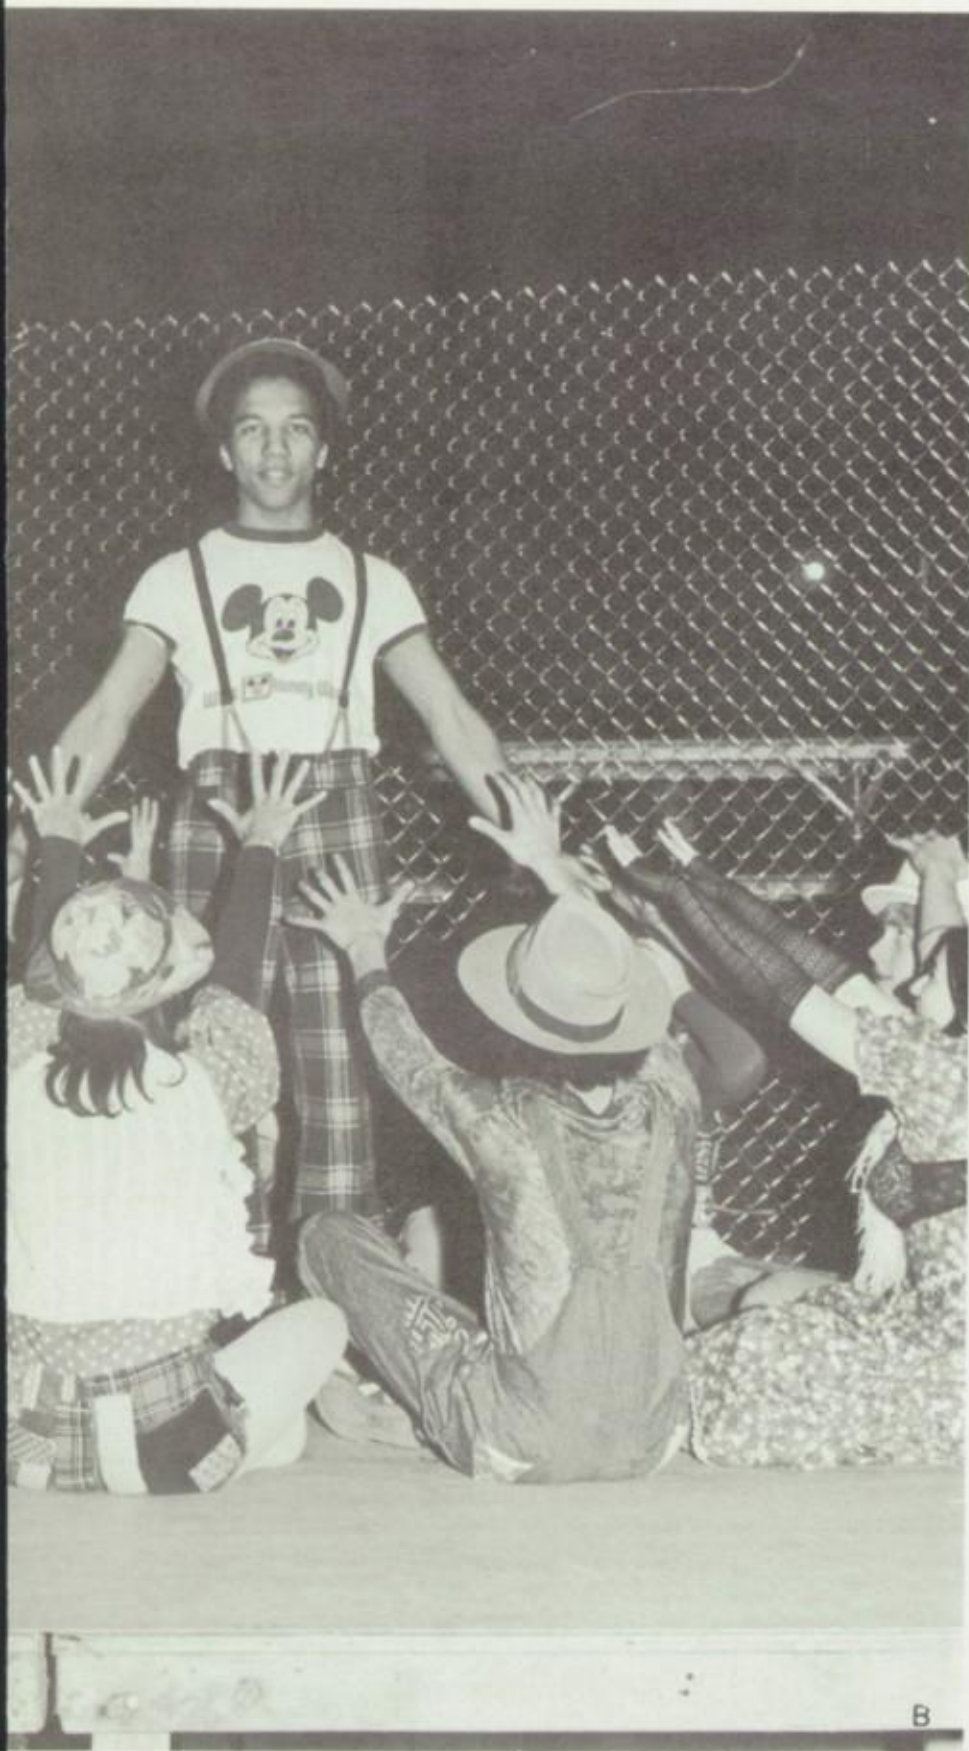

"Godspell", this year's spring musical, is based on the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The play is unique in that the actors are given the freedom to design their own costumes, block their own actions, and write their own dialogue. The entire cast remains on stage throughout the show except for a 15 minute intermission when they take turns resting offstage.

The play has eleven characters, with Neil Hever in the lead role of Jesus. Austin Newman is Judas. Mr. Hunsicker's vocal work is the key to this show's success, and the players expect to play to large audiences throughout the run.

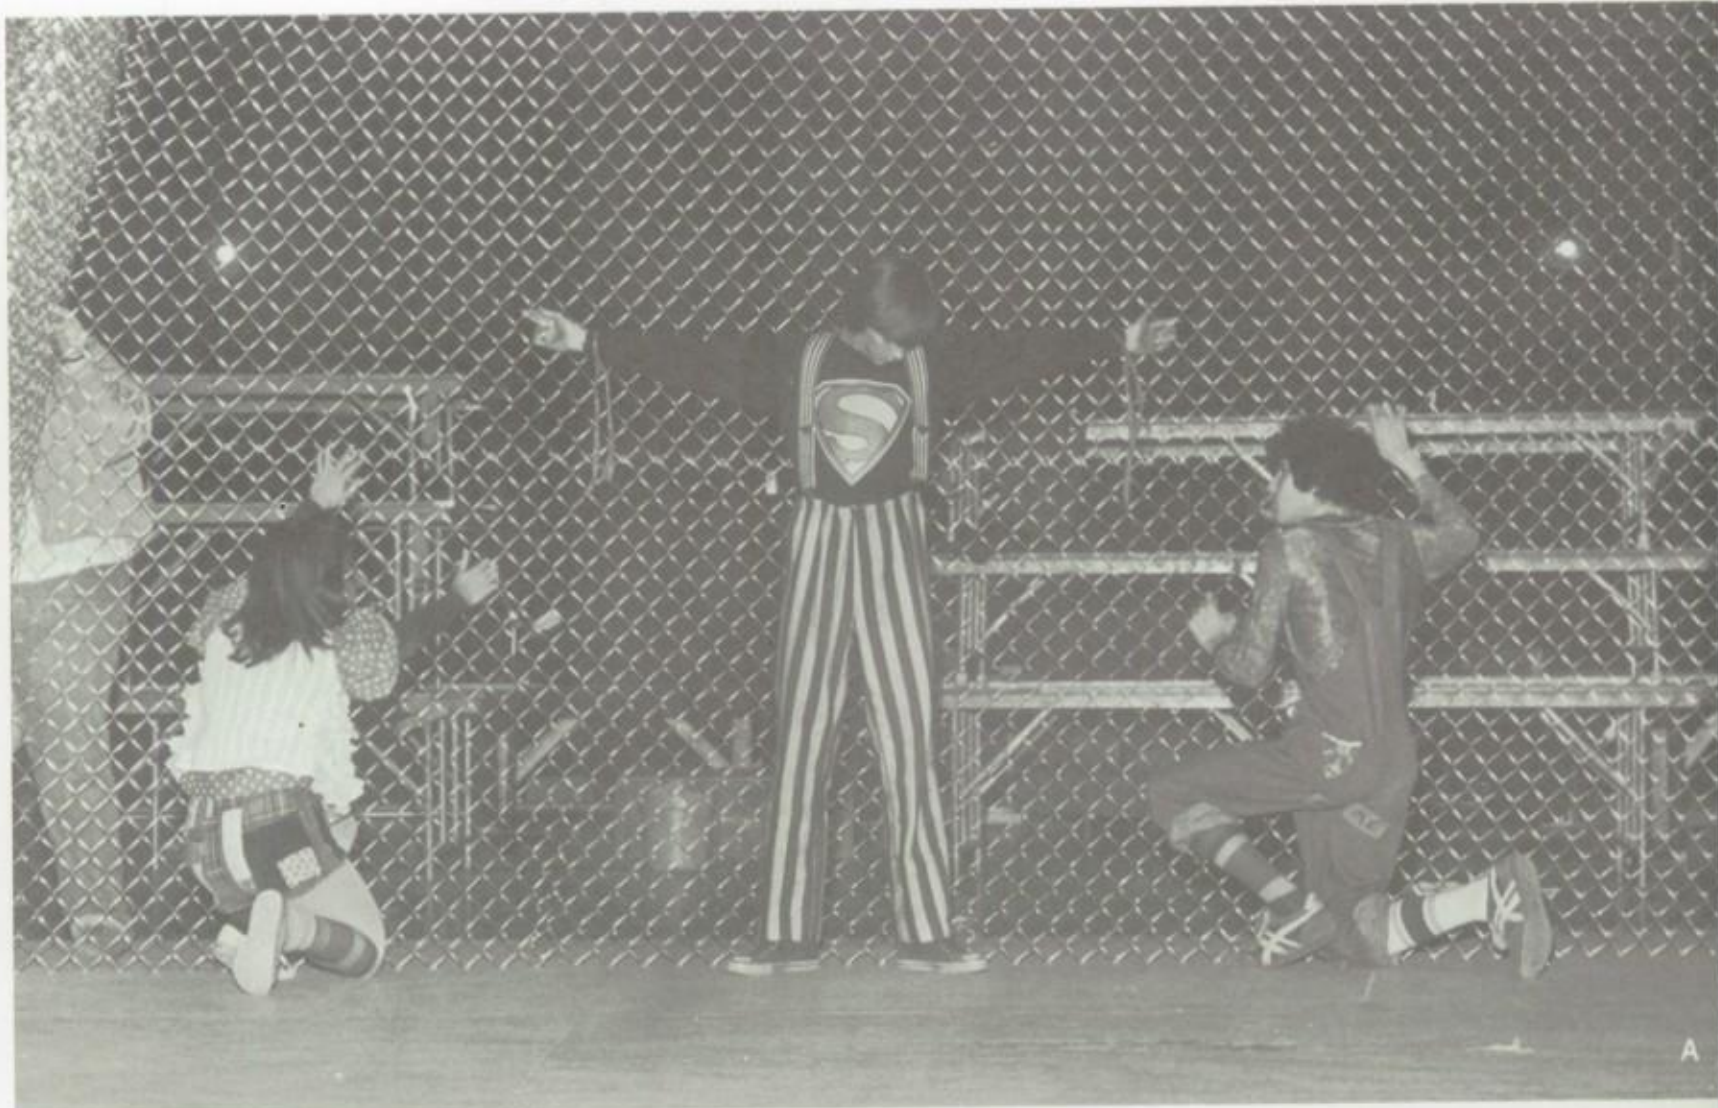

A. The whole cast joins Karen and Jesus (Neil Hever) in the cake walk.
B. Jorge thanks the Lord for "All Good Gifts". C. Heidi pleads with Jesus to stay by her side.

The cast: l. to r. bot. row- T. Davis, S. White, N. Hever, H. Bendiksen; second row- A. Newman, R. Doncourt, K. Scala; top row- C. Marmaro, J. Noa, H. Leon.

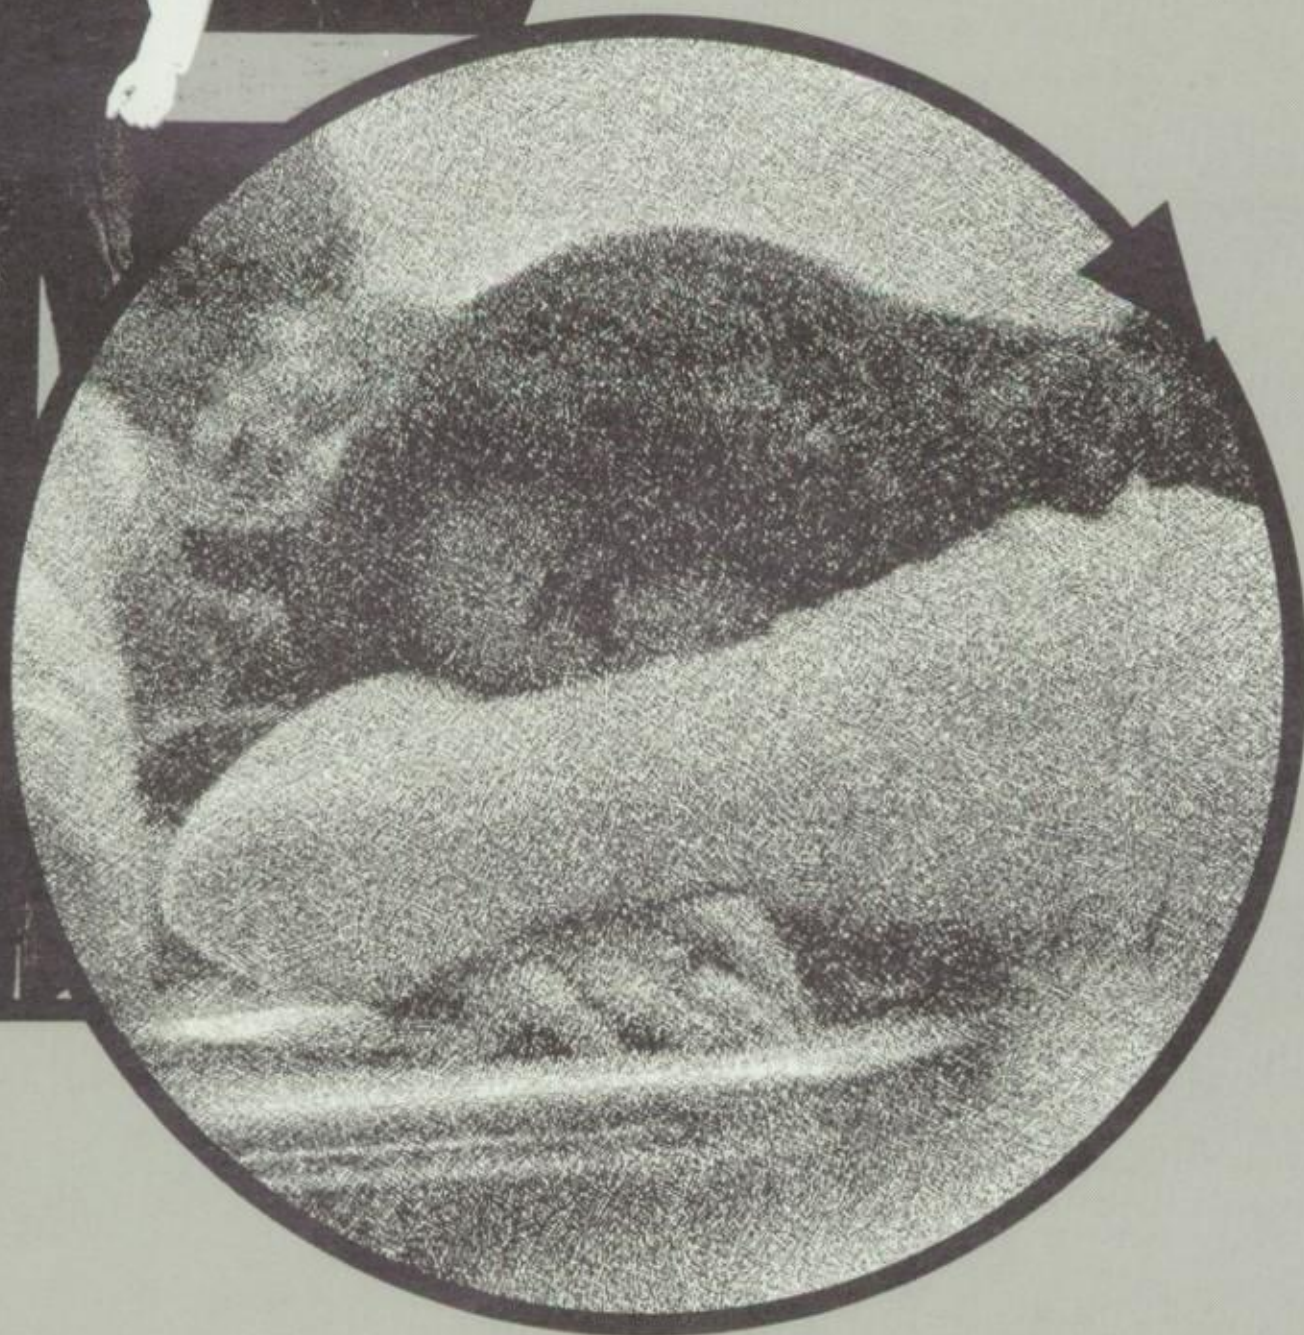

- A. "Oh god I'm dying" sings Jesus during his crucifixion.
- B. "When wilt thou save the people?", the cast asks Jesus.
- C. Jesus is carried off as the cast sings "Long live God".
- D. Shelly as Abraham warns everyone to listen to Moses and the prophets.

SPORTS

A Winning Season Eluded 5-10 Booters

The soccer team had an up and down season. The Chiefs' biggest win came against arch-rival Lenape Valley by a score of 3-2. Bruce Feakins, Gary Tuttle, and Shaun Sweeney accounted for the Hopatcong scores, and the defense played well enough to make the winning margin hold up.

The Chiefs' leading scorer was Shaun Sweeney with 10 goals. He was followed in the scoring by Chris DiMarco who scored 3 goals and was also voted the team's most valuable Pplayer.

At the close of the season, center fullback Chris Dimarco, center forward Gary Tuttle, and goalie Len Cobosco were voted honorable mention All-County honors.

1st row: J. Naranjo, T. Ayres, L. Cobosco, D. Koroluk, B. McCurdy, M. Scala 2nd row: R. Michel, B. Feakins, T. O'Donnell, C. DiMarco, S. Sweeney, S. Cucinella, G. Skinner, G. Tuttle, Dennys Davis (Coach)

A. Goalie Len Cobosco makes a save against Mt. Olive. B. Tony O'Donnell and Bruce Feakins combine to stop an opposing movement. C. Forward Shaun Sweeney battles for control of the ball. D. Fullback Bruce Feakins comes up to try to halt an attack on goal. E. Forward Jimmy Naranjo starts a Hopatcong sweep toward the goal with Ron Michel coming up to assist.

Harriers' Season's Records Slip, But Individual Accomplishments Rise.

Faced with a rebuilding project, the 1977 boys' crosscountry team saw a winning tradition slip to a 4-6 record. The season was not without its high points however. Senior Bill Austin became Hopatcong's first male runner to win the S.C.I.L. individual championship. His tremendous strength and drive also led him to the State Sectional championship. Bill was named to the All-Conference and All-Area first teams. Freshman Bob Smith became the conference freshman champion, and Dan Homan placed second. Bob also became the first freshman to receive honorable mention on the All-Area team.

The girls' team lost five very close meets to slip to a 5-5 record, and surrendered the county championship to Vernon by 3 points. In post-season competition, however, the girls rebounded and more. They won the State Sectional title with Debreen Conklin first, Beth Scott second, and Tina Webb third. The girls went on to finish seventh in the State Group I Championship. Debreen was named to the All-Area first team, and Beth and Tina were named to the All-Area second team. All three girls were named to the S.C.I.L. first team.

The "Big Green" Hustled, But Hustle Wasn't Enough.

Despite their poor won-lost record, Coach Bob Urwin's Chiefs were one of the Sussex County League's most exciting teams to watch. The Chiefs stayed close to their opponents in nearly every game, but always seemed to come up short.

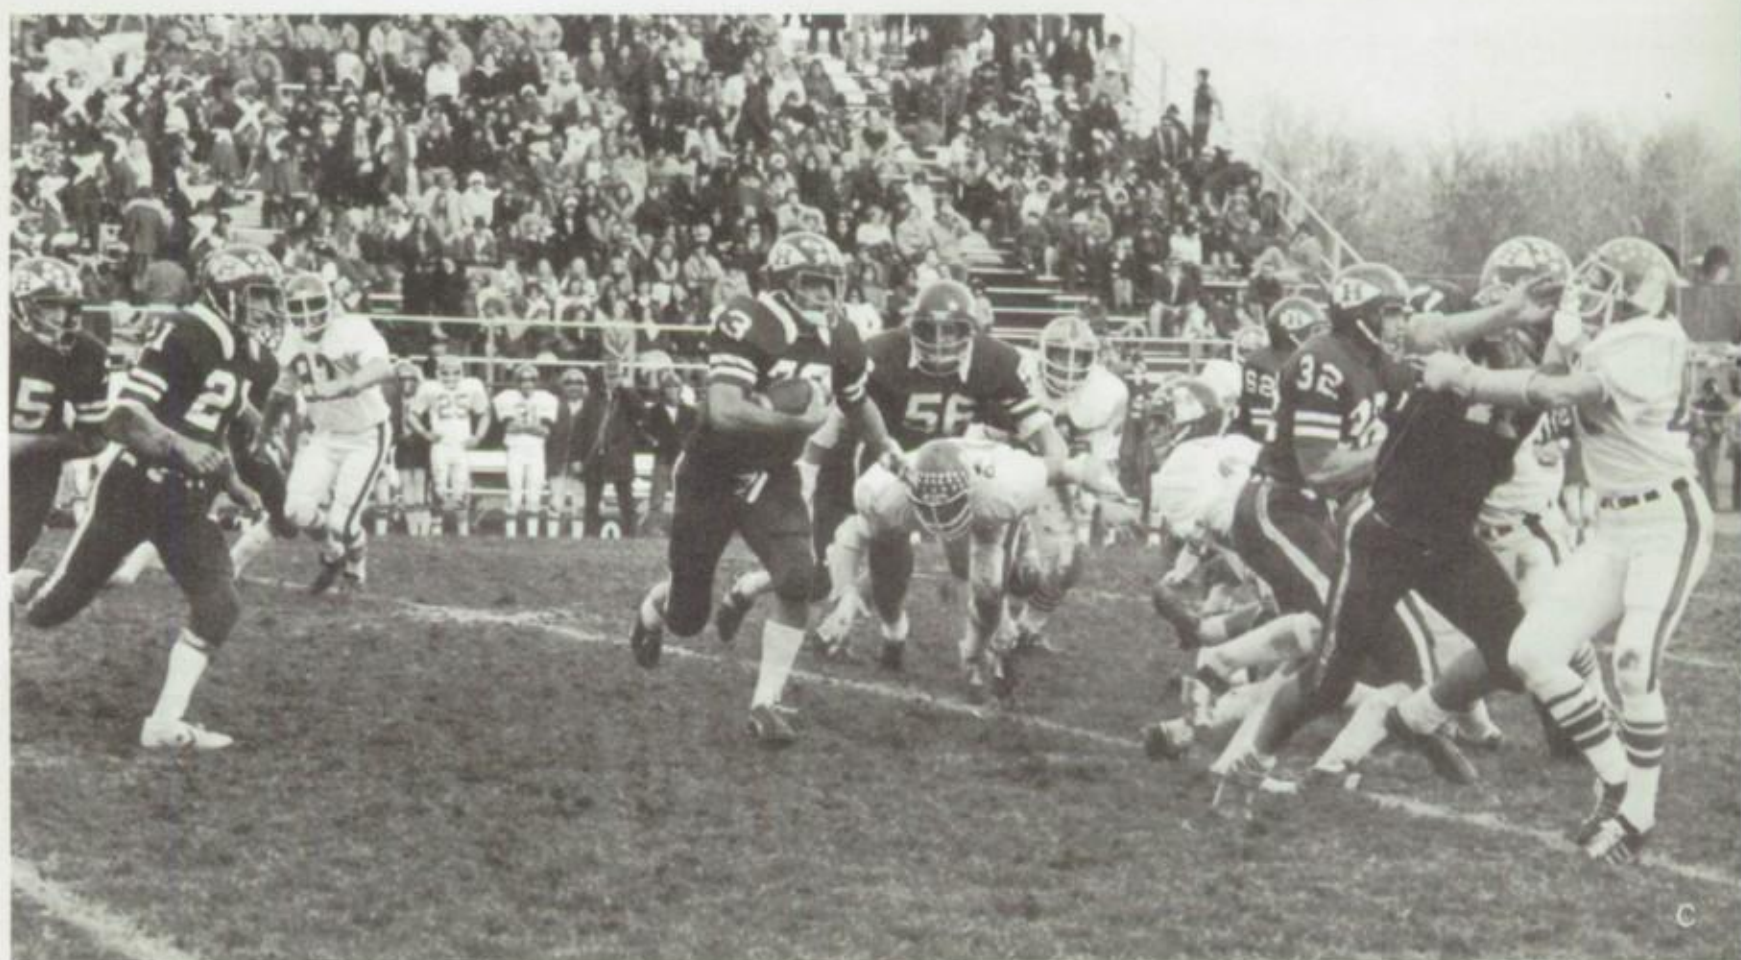

The teams loyal fans never let their team down. No one who was at the game will ever forget the wild cheering when the Chiefs gave an early scare to powerful Lenape Valley.

The 1977 edition of the Chiefs saw a strong backfield headed by MVP Fred Geisler, directed by Phil White and Willie McDonald, and supported by the powerful running of Larry DiGiesi. The defensive line was also very strong, and was anchored by Karl Burkardt who repeated with All-Area honors.

A. The Chiefs' defensive line prepares to take on league leader, Lenape Valley. B. Mike Tierney (54) and Dino Antonelli (70) clear the way for a Fred Geisler sweep. C. Defensive end Jim Papis (81) gets ready to take on a Lenape back. D. The Chiefs' defense swarms in to try to block a punt.

The Fall Cheerleaders Get “R-O-W-D-I-E-!”

Neither a losing season nor a record rainfall could dampen the spirits of the Fall Cheerleaders. They cheered every week, rain or shine, with high hopes of winning each game.

Co-captains Cindy Bucher and Sole Santangelo, and senior Dorothy Homan led the squad through the highs and lows of the season to keep everyone's spirits high.

A. Co-captain Sole Santangelo leads the squad in one of the many fight cheers. B. The girls "reach up and touch the sky" in an attempt to lift the team to a victory. C. A chill autumn afternoon causes the squad to keep close to keep warm while they watch the action. D. Dorothy Homan stretches to see if the extra point is good.

1st row: E. Thompson, J. Law (Advisor), K. Scala, 2nd row: C. Penn, R. Heroux, D. Homan 3rd row: S. Santangelo, C. Bucher, C. Thompson, D. Pakutka

The Winter Cheerleaders Sparked The Wrestling & Basketball Teams.

The winter cheerleading season is a long and hard one. The cheerleaders put in three, four, or even five nights each week, and at every game and match they maintained the true spirit that has always characterized Hopatcong High School cheerleaders. The girls grew to become a close group of friends who contributed to bring life and excitement to basketball and wrestling contests.

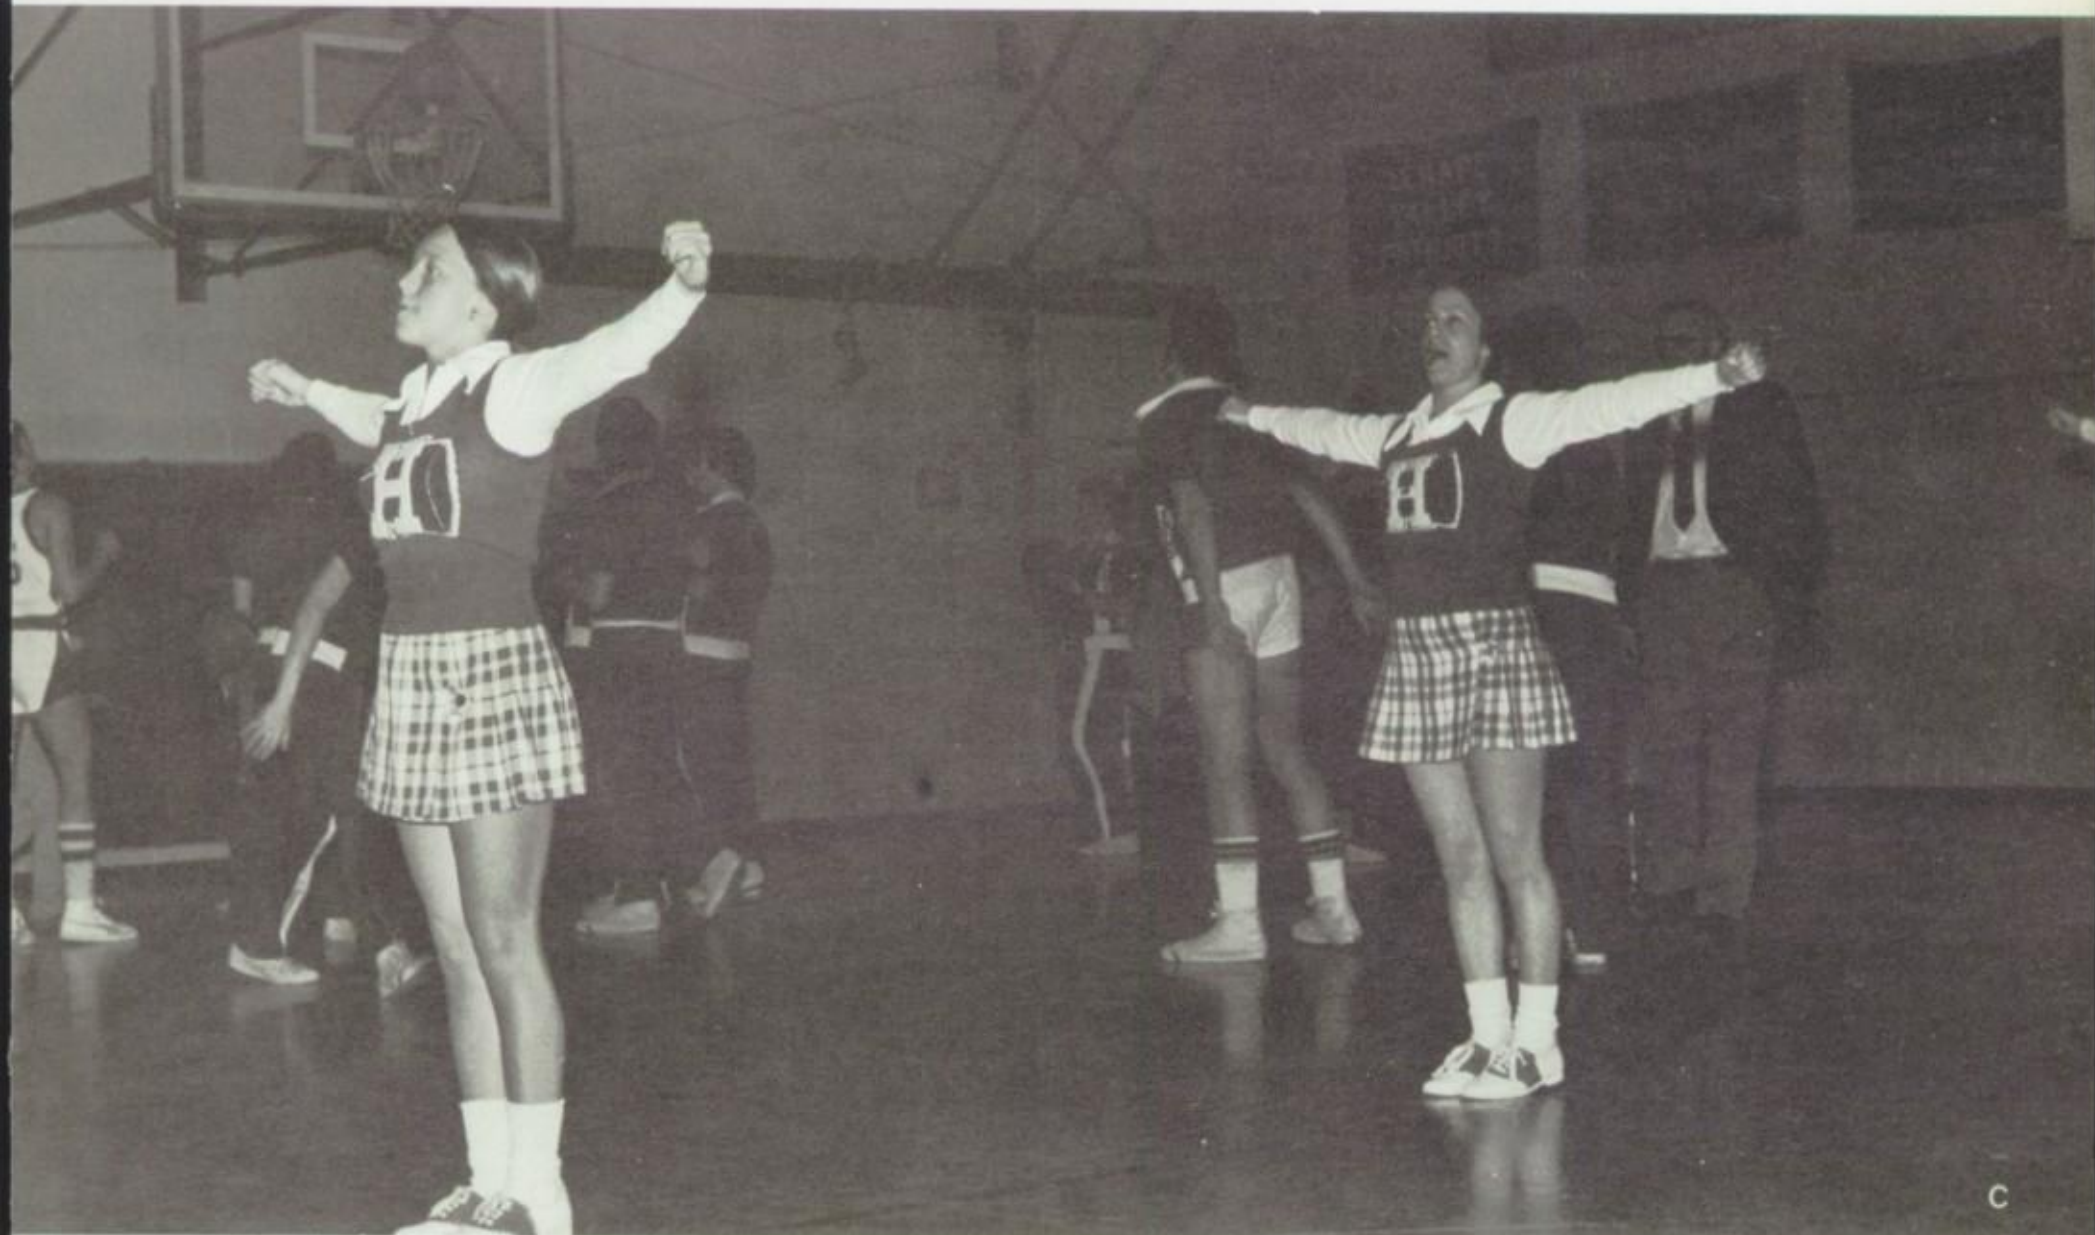

A. "He's a chief, a varsity Chief!" cheers Karen Scala. B. The girls react to a Hopatcong basket. C. Cindy Penn and Robin Heroux cheer the team during a varsity line-up. D. From the top of the heap, Terry Kersey makes her point: "We've got spirit!"

The Basketball Chiefs Finished 15-10, Good For Third Place In The S.C.L.

The Chiefs fashioned a 15-10 record behind the shooting of senior Dennis Tobin. Tobin concluded an outstanding four years at HHS by scoring 2091 points to break the county scoring record and become only the twenty-third player in the history of the state to score over 2000 points in a career. Helping to carry the scoring load were junior Bob Nowatnick and freshman Brad Leslie. The Chiefs received strong board work from seniors John Thormann and Dennis Deering, and junior Ralph Elpin. The fast break was led by senior John Walsh and junior Pete Mortimore. The Chiefs received strong help from benchmen Scott Fitzgerald and Joe Sacco.

At the end of the season, the Chiefs had earned a respectable third place finish in the Sussex County League, and Dennis Tobin was the largest vote getter for the All County Team. Tobin went on to play in the New Jersey North-South All Star Game.

The Girls' Basketball Team Achieved The Finest Season In H.H.S. History.

Girls basketball showed a tremendous improvement over previous years. The girls compiled a 12-14 record overall, and an 8-10 record in S.C.I.L. play. Competing for the first time in the Christmas Tournament, the girls won the third place trophy. Also for the first time, Hopatcong girls entered the state tournament and won their opening game over St. Cecilia. Pat Cronin, who will return next year, was the leading scorer and earned All-League and All-Area first team honors. Monica Sturm, the team's leader in rebounds and in assists, made honorable mention All-Area and All-League. Mary Anne Smith was the leading defensive player and earned All-League honorable mention.

Tennis Embarks On A Rebuilding Year.

This year's tennis team is comprised of four returning lettermen (no seniors) and eight newcomers, four of whom are freshmen. As a result, this year must be viewed as a rebuilding year. Coach From has expressed hopes that the team will compile a .500 record.

Team leaders are expected to be co-captains Joe Plocinski and Lars Petersen, Len Cobasco, and Scott Morstatt

Boys' Track Team Rebuilds, As Girls Look For Championship.

With only five returning lettermen, the boys' track team is working on a rebuilding program. Co-captains Bill Austin and Bob Peterson are working with the other seniors to guide the younger and less experienced members of the team.

In the field events, Karl Burkardt and Larry DiGiesi are expected to be the mainstays. Chris Dimarco and Jim Hertzog are the key performers in the pole vault. Newcomer Fred Geisler, along with Will Pakutka, is being looked to for points in the sprints. Bill Austin is counted on to pace the distance runners. Cliff Theis gives the Chiefs experience in the high jump. Freshman Bob Smith has already distinguished himself as a potential star, breaking the freshman record for the long jump.

For the girls, the track prospects are bright indeed. The girls have established winning the S.C.I.L. as their goal, and a tough Vernon team is expected to pose their toughest competition. Already this season a number of school records have been broken. Karen Lee set new marks in the javelin and discus throws. The mile relay team, (Debbie Conklin, Mary Anne Smith, Karen Lee, and Denise Pakutka) bettered the previous time in that event. Jenny Barbour and Arlene Miller in the sprints, Beth Scott, Liz O'Connor, and Tina Webb in the distance runs, and Mary Langweisch and Eunice Casanovas in the field events are also expected to be key performers.

A. Tom Smith works on his form in the shot. B. Jenny Barbour and Arlene Miller clear the hurdles while working on their sprint times. C. Ken Sudol strains to coax another inch from his long jump. D. Beth Scott, Debfeen Conklin, Karen Penn, Mary Ann Smith, and Joanne Davis break from the blocks while the rest of the team looks on.

A. Mark Scala practices with the javelin. B. Jackie Savarian and Sue White work on their starts. C. Karen Lee demonstrates the form which enabled her to break the school record for the girls' javelin throw.

Softball Team Is Improved By Experience.

The softball outlook is an optimistic one with numerous veterans returning and a large number of talented newcomers filling out the roster.

Co-captain Jeanne Pastore at third base is a slick fielder and provides plenty of offensive punch as well. Seniors Lori Vecoli, Donna Hodson, and Monica Sturm are expected to provide plenty of additional help in the hitting department. Shortstop Mary Bellene and centerfielder Cornelia Kent are the keys to the team's defense.

The blend of hitting and defense is expected to put the girls in a good position to make a run at the S.C.I.L. championship.

An Early 4-0 Record Boosts Baseball Hopes For A Title

Years of hard work appear to be finally paying off for the baseball team. The team has begun its season with four straight wins, and the players are beginning to realize that an S.C.I.L. championship is a possibility.

The team is paced by the pitching of Ralph Elpin and the hitting of third baseman Willie MacDonald. The senior double play combination of shortstop Phil White and second baseman Dennis Derring gives the team strong defense. Tony Haines will handle the catching, and Tony Oliva, George Scholl, Bob Nowatnick, and Rolando Gomez give the team outfield strength and depth.

SENIORS

Dedication

Mr. Anthony Ladzinski has been an advisor (to the class of '78.) in the truest sense. He has always been willing to give his support and effort to any endeavor undertaken by the class. "Mr. Lad" has been a counselor and friend to the members of the senior class during the past three years. His unusual sense of humor has lightened many an hour of hard work. Many thanks are due to this man for his undying enthusiasm and devotion which have made these years at H.H.S. the most memorable of our lives.

It is with great pride and thanks that the 1978 Laurentian is dedicated to Mr. Anthony Ladzinski take care

good luck in the future, see you at some parties over the summer
Thursday

Lucy,
Even though I didn't see much of you this year, you're still a great kid. Good luck with your mother
& moving!
Love,
Holly

Lucy, was good knowing ya.
It was good knowing the
good luck in the future and in everything you do. Have a great summer.
Love,
Shannon

Lu,
Good luck next year. You'll need it more than I will. Meaning?

Jackie

P.S. You will make friends fast & you'll pass Algebra!

To Lucy

GOOD LUCK NEXT YEAR IN A NEW

CITY AT A NEW JOB

I keep your one here I HAVEN'T

Given up on you I ~~will~~ yet

Mick
